U. S. INCREASES LEAD AT OLYMPIC GAMES!

DAVIS PICKS C. W. BRYAN AS MATE

Nominee First Suggests Walsh, Then Meredith, But Both Refuse

By GEO. R. HOLMES
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, July 10.—Davis and Bryan! After sixteen days of bickering and quarreling, bitterness and hatred, the exhausted hosts of Democracy made their way out of the trenches at Madison Square Garden this morning, grimy, tired and fairly well united behind this ticket.

Their differences, they said, were left buried in those garden runways where they toiled and fought so long—longer than any other delegates to any other major political convention in the history of American politics.

The Davis part of it took the sixteen days. The Bryan and took but little more than sixteen minutes.

Leaders Satisfied
But, irrespective of the difference in time of accomplishment, Democratic chieftains professed themselves entirely satisfied today with both jobs. They were scattering to their long-sought homes today to tell the rank and file all about it.

John W. Davis of West Virginia and New York, took charge of the Democratic party today. He assumed the helmet theoretically at 3:26 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

At 1 a. m. today he grabbed it physically with both hands and his first act was to name the man who is his running mate—Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska.

For sixteen days, Davis had been reading the uncompromisingly true statements about him by that other Bryan of Nebraska—William Jennings. He had seen himself referred to as "J. Pierpont Morgan's lawyer" and "Wall Street's candidate;" he had heard the dire predictions being made by W. J. as to what would happen to him in the wide open spaces of the great west if he were nominated.

Bryan Supporter
And, so being nominated, his first act of leadership was to name on the ticket with him the brother of William J.

Today William Jennings Bryan was "supporting the ticket."

"The nomination of 'Brother Charlie' was accomplished with little fuss or feathers. Along about 1 o'clock this morning, with the delegates wobbling in their seats from weariness, the convention seemed headed for another fight. No one wanted it, but no one seemed able to stop it—that is, no one but John W. Davis.

A recess of one hour was proposed to give the leaders an opportunity to get together on a vice-president. It had a familiar ring—that phrase "to give the leaders a chance to confer." The home-hungry delegates howled it down.

Hold Conference
"The eyes have it," calmly announced William Barkley, who was in the chair. And before the delegates could recover from their

Asks Public to Aid In Combating Fires

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Cooperation of the public was urged today in combating the forest fire menace, following a meeting here of state forestry officials. Committees of citizens will be named throughout Southern California to assist in fire fighting and fire prevention organization.

City to Impound Cars Of Speeders, Is Order

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Motorists charged with speeding will be given their choice of storing their cars or going to jail, Judge Baird announced today. The cars will be impounded by the city.

Two Injured as Cars Crash In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Crawford Trotter was probably fatally injured and L. M. Colcord was seriously hurt in a crash of two automobiles here today.

Candidate

CHARLES W. BRYAN, brother of William Jennings Bryan, Democratic candidate for vice-president.

RUMORS RIFE AS RAIL HEADS MEET

Decision on Union Terminal May Be Discussed at L. A. Conference

By GIL A. COWAN
By Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, July 10.—William G. Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific railway; Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific system; and Paul Shoup, president of the Pacific Electric lines, all are in Los Angeles today.

So far as could be learned no formal conference was to be held, but there are matters in which the three heads of these Southern California transportation systems are commonly interested.

First and foremost is the union terminal desired by the State Railroad commission. If a conference is held no doubt this question will be discussed.

Another matter of vital importance to Glendale which involves the Pacific Electric and Union Pacific is the purchase by the former of the Glendale & Montrose railway, the only competitor of the Pacific Electric in the local interurban field.

Option Is Rumored
It is rumored that the Pacific Electric has an option on the Glendale line with the intention of extending the La Crescenta division to Tujunga and possibly San Fernando along the lines outlined for a scenic foothill line.

However, the interests of the Union Pacific in the Glendale & Montrose line south of Glendale avenue by which local cars connect with the Los Angeles railway line at Verdugo road have to be considered.

Although no hint has been given out that Messrs. Shoup and Gray will discuss this deal at this time, it is an opportune moment, observers point out, for the transaction to be consummated.

Official Believes Industries Will Not Have Further Difficulties If Conservation Program Is Faithfully Followed

A full report of conditions at Huntington lake was presented to the City Council this morning by Virgil B. Stone, city manager, and was accepted by the council and ordered filed. The report is the result of a personal trip of investigation to this power reservoir of the Southern California Edison company.

The city manager expresses the belief that if the conservative program set down for this city and the rest of this section is followed, industries can get through the summer without further difficulties. His report in full follows:

July 10, 1924.
Hon. Mayor and City Council, Glendale, California.

TAHOE FIRE SWEEPING FOREST

High Winds Fan Flames to Fresh Outbreak; Huge Area Burned Over

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Fanned by a high wind, the Yuba Pass fire in the Tahoe national forest broke forth with renewed force today, defying the efforts of exhausted men who have been endeavoring to bring it under control for the past week and had almost succeeded.

Reports received at the United States district forester's office here said the conflagration was running wild before the high wind and had jumped an area of one and a half miles where fire fighters had backfired yesterday. Many thousands of acres of fine lumber have been destroyed, it was said.

Hope for Wind Shift
The Yuba Pass blaze was but one of three which, in various parts of the state, were today out of control, forestry officers declaring they had small hopes of quenching them within the next twenty-four hours unless the wind shifts.

More than 30,000 acres of brush and timberland have been ruined in the Sequoia national forest to date by the Bull Run fire which today continued to rage with unabated vigor in spite of the efforts of more than 500 men, half of whom were impressed into service in Bakersfield.

Another Break
The north line of this blaze was uncontrolled and another had break occurred on the south line which was partly stopped yesterday by prompt backfiring.

The fire is slowly eating its way into the inaccessible country near Green Horn mountain, and residents of Kernville are declaring that once it gets a good start in this country it may be weeks before it may be controlled.

Flames Threaten
A new fire on Forest Hill divide near Deadwood gave indications of causing as much damage to the Tahoe forest as that in Yuba

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The postmaster general today appointed William M. Irwin acting postmaster at Fullerton, Cal.

Gompers Stricken; Specialists Called Into Consultation

NEW YORK, July 10.—Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, is gravely ill at the Hotel Shelburne, Coney Island, it was learned today. Gompers was brought to the hotel yesterday from the Lenox Hill hospital, where he had been recuperating for some weeks from a general breakdown.

Two nurses are constantly in attendance and specialists from Manhattan were to examine the labor leader late today.

"Gompers is very weak," one of his secretaries said. It was said no one was permitted to see him for several days.

PRESIDENT'S SON LAID TO REST

Solemn Services Conducted As Calvin Coolidge, Jr., Goes Back Home

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service.
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 10.—Back in this little New England town where but 16 short years ago he was born, Calvin Coolidge, jr., son of the president, was carried today to pause momentarily in the journey to his final resting place in the Vermont hills of his forefathers.

It is here that Calvin spent his early childhood and it was here that his heartbroken parents chose to accord him one final tribute before the burial in the Coolidge family plot at Plymouth, Vt.

In the quiet, red brick Congregational church that only a few years ago claimed the president's son as one of its youngest members, simple services were conducted over the rose-blanketed casket.

Twenty-third Psalm
Rev. Dr. Kenneth B. Wells, Calvin's childhood pastor, read the beautiful passages of the Twenty-third Psalm, while old friends and playmates mingled with the highest of the land in silent tribute.

Seated before the coffin were the immediate family, President and Mrs. Coolidge, bearing with fortitude their first great sorrow; John, the older brother, still dazed from the loss of his inseparable companion; the president's aged father, mourning over his favorite grandson; Mrs. Coolidge's mother, sorrowing in common with her daughter.

Grouped about the coffin were the six marines from the presidential yacht Mayflower, whom Calvin had admired so much in life and who have watched over him constantly since his tragic death three days ago.

Pay Final Tribute
Present also were the great officials of the nation, members of the bereaved president's cabinet and behind them were the small and the great of Northampton, paying final tribute to the son of their greatest son.

The church walls were banked with floral tributes from those who proudly had watched their former mayor rise to the greatest office in the land, and who had held a paternal feeling for the man's boy.

The services were similar to those held Wednesday in the

Shipbuilding Firm to Improve Terminals

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—A huge program of expansion calling for the expenditure of $2,500,000 to make the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation yards at Terminal Island, Los Angeles harbor, the most modern on the Pacific coast, has been prepared and placed before high officials of the Bethlehem company at Pittsburg, it was learned today.

Contractor Ferry's Pledge to Vacate Acacia Street Premises Recalled

The city council this morning adopted a resolution requiring written application for permit to keep horses or mules within 300 feet of a private residence, as provided by the terms of Ordinance 216, passed October, 1913, and still in effect.

A number of road contractors and others affected by the enforcement of this ordinance, including Peter L. Ferry, were present and requested in vain that verbal permits be issued. The council granted them a blanket permit for one week only, pending further consideration of this ordinance and two others along similar lines, introduced at this morning's session.

W. E. Howell of 624 East Acacia avenue was present as a representative of property owners in the vicinity of Mr. Ferry's grading camp at 614 East Acacia avenue. He recalled to the council that Mr. Ferry had promised a year ago to vacate the premises at that address within a year. Mr. Ferry denied having made such a promise but on request of Mr. Howell, City Clerk A. J. Van Vleet read the council minutes for May 10, 1923, wherein it was recorded that Mr. Ferry had made such a promise.

Billboard Ordinance
At the council meeting of Thursday morning, July 17, the necessary steps will be taken to regulate in an equitable manner the keeping of horses and mules within the city limits of Glendale, it was decided.

An ordinance was introduced to supersede the present ordinance regulating the posting of billboards within the city limits. The proposed new ordinance sets a flat

Interest in the Olympic games at Paris is at its height these days as the track, field and swimming events—the contests that furnish the biggest thrills—are being staged. Above are some of the stars on whom Uncle Sam is depending to maintain his supremacy, established in previous games. Aileen Riggins, dainty diving champ, with the Star Spangled Banner, exemplifies the spirit of America at the games.

McAdoo Silent on Whether He Will Support Nominees

NEW YORK, July 10.—"I have nothing to say."

This was the only comment William G. McAdoo would make today on the outcome of the Democratic national convention, in which he was one of the leading figures.

Asked the direct question of whether he would support the Davis-Bryan ticket, McAdoo looked up from his breakfast only long enough to repeat:

"I have nothing to say."

HOLLYWOOD'S POLE VAULT STAR IS WINNER

Nurmi, Finland Flash, Sets New Mark; Americans Take Hammer Throw

BULLETIN
COLOMBES STADIUM, France, July 10.—The Olympic standings at the end of today's events were: United States, 177; Finland, 103; Great Britain, 46½; Sweden, 24½; Switzerland, 10; Hungary, 7½; South Africa, 5; Norway, 4; New Zealand, 4; Denmark, 4; Canada, 2.

COLOMBES STADIUM, France, July 10.—This was Paavo Nurmi's carnival at the Olympic games, the wonderful Finn doing all expected when he became a double winner within an hour's time, taking the 1,500 and 5,000 metre runs and establishing a new Olympic record of 14:31 1-5 in the long race.

While individual honors for the day were for Nurmi, the United States continued to add points to the grand totals and when fifteen finals had been contested the United States had amassed 177 points with Finland in second place with 103 points. American athletes won 43 points today in four events: 20 in the pole vault, 17 in the hammer and three each in the 1,500 and 5,000 metre runs.

California Scores
The pole vault was a profitable event for Uncle Sam as his boys won the first three places. Lee Barnes, Hollywood, California schoolboy, was the winner, after jumping off a tie at 12 feet 11 1-8 with G. Graham, from California Tech.

Graham won second place and J. K. Brooker of Michigan was fourth. Ralph Spearow, Oregon, was sixth. This event gave the United States 20 points.

400-Metre Record
One world's record was created when Imbach of Switzerland stepped a trial heat in the 400-metre dash in 43 seconds, two-fifths of a second faster than the time made by C. P. Reidpath, former Syracuse sprinter, in Sweden in 1912.

United States athletes won places in all four of the final events contested today. They won overwhelming victories in the pole vault and hammer throw and squeezed places in the 1,500 and 5,000-metre runs.

In the hammer throw, F. D. Tootell, Boston, won, with M. J. McGrath, veteran of the New York A. C., second and Jim McEhern, San Francisco, fifth. Thus this event gave 17 points to the United States.

In the 1,500-metre run, Ray Barker of Illinois took fifth and Lloyd Huhn, Boston, sixth, thus earning three points for their team.

John Romig saved the United States being shut out in the 5,000-metre, running fourth, to win three points for America.

In the long series of qualifying heats which worked the 400-metre dash down to the semifinals, J. Coard Taylor of the New York A. C. and H. Fitch of Chicago survived for the semifinals.

Barnes is the second schoolboy winner of this event.

BUILD SOUTHLAND IS CHAPIN'S PLEA

Speaker at Rotary Club Tells Vision of Growth In Los Angeles Area

"Get behind some constructive work and do your part in the building of this great metropolitan area," was the plea of Will T. Chapin, veteran newspaperman and publicist, in a speech before the Glendale Rotary club this afternoon, which was nothing more or less than the astonishing story of Southern California's growth.

"Increasing at its present rate, Los Angeles will have 15,000,000 population in twenty years," he exclaimed, after analyzing the various factors which is bringing the world here.

"The whole world is coming here and you cannot help it," was one of his metaphorical statements in an effort to impress

REGRET TO LEAVE CAMP ON ISLAND

Boys Enjoying Vacation at Catalina; Program for Each Day Given

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.
CAMP SHAW, Catalina Island,
July 10.—Members of the Boys'
Y. M. C. A. camp being held here, are enjoying themselves to the utmost and have only one regret—the camp will end too soon. There are 134 boys in the camp at the present time.
Camp officials elected shortly after the boys reached here are:
Mayor, Robert Hatch; sheriff,
Harold Palter; editor of the camp paper, Ross M. Russell, Jr.; representative of athletic committee, Willard Ball, and representative of sanitation committee, Walter Andrews.

The daily program of the camp is: 6:15 a. m., reveille, setting up exercises, morning dip, flag raising; 7 a. m., breakfast; 8 a. m., Bible study, followed by chapel; 9 a. m., inspections; 9:15
a. m., athletics; 11:15 a. m., morning swim; 12:15 p. m., dinner; 1 p. m., store open, rest period; 2 p. m., hikes, games, fishing; 4 p. m., afternoon swim; 6
p. m., supper; 8 p. m., camp fire, stunts, paper read, talks; 9 p. m., taps.

Pictures of Camp
Moving pictures of the camp and many of the boys were taken Monday. A five-mile hike was staged to Mt. Blackjack and back.
Although the boys saw about seventy-five mountain goats, they did not succeed in catching any.
The food is prepared by two expert chefs and meets with the approval of all the boys. Church was held in the woods Sunday.
Dr. Stevenson, religious director of the camp, gave a good talk on leading a clean life.

The permanent staff of the camp includes ten men, who assist Rex Kelley, secretary of the Glendale branch, in looking after matters here.

MAKES PLANS FOR COMING FESTIVAL

Annual Event to Be Held In September at Tujunga
By Legion Post

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.
TUJUNGA, July 10.—Visit with me this hillside community of contentment. See the hundreds of little homes scattered over the valley behind the Verdugos. Hear the laughing waters of the Big Tujunga. Enjoy the atmosphere of the hills. And you will agree with the poets and painters that this is the one spot in all the world where an annual Moon Festival may be held in its proper setting.

Look upon the hillside and you will see a stone building, the original meeting place of the Little Landers who first colonized this peaceful valley. Today it is the American Legion hall. And to pay for the building post No. 250 each year sponsors the festival which is held early in September.

In order to raise the money needed to finance the fair, for that is what the festival may be compared with, the legionnaires are going to inaugurate a king and queen contest shortly. A diamond ring will be the reward for the fair lady, while F. A. Graham, publicity purveyor of the event,
solemnly assures me that a $50
Ingersoll will be given the king, provided he earns it.

Vaudeville attractions and concessions now are being booked and the next fifty or sixty days will be full of activity for the service men who have been named to various committees in charge.

LAST CHANCE TO VISIT RADIO CAR

Leaves Los Angeles Today
For San Diego, Then to San Francisco

The specially equipped radio car which arrived at Riverside early this month will be on display in Los Angeles until today, going to San Diego until July 12, to Santa Barbara on July 13 and to San Francisco for July 15 and 16, according to the schedule that has been received by Salmacia Brothers of the Glendale Music company, 109 North Brand boulevard.

This car has been sent out on a cross-continent trip by the Brooklyn Daily Eagle and has visited all the principal cities en route to the coast. A special super-heterodyne set, designed by Lieutenant Victor Greiff of the Radio Receptor company is used.
A large loop of antennae takes the place of an outside aerial, power is supplied by a Gould uni-power and amplification by an Ethorox loud speaker.

The Ethorox loud speaker, as used in this outfit, is the latest development in the loud speaker, and while not as low priced as some, is said to be a revelation in quality reproduction.

Glendale radio fans will have an opportunity to hear the Ethorox at the Glendale Music company's store. This firm has the exclusive

CAMP IS PLANNED FOR ROSS FIELD

Reserve Officers Will Have Opportunity to Train
For Three Weeks

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Officers of all branches of the organized reserves, national guard and regular army who find it impossible to attend the regularly designated war department training camps, will have the opportunity right here at home in Southern California, according to information received by members of the Association of the Army today.

A camp will be conducted at Ross Field, Arcadia, only 15 miles from the city, from July 14 to August 9, according to C. P. Kane, commanding the air field. An opportunity for flying training for lighter-than-air reserve forces also will be provided, but all officers are eligible to attend.

Athletics is a major subject of the course and all training will be conducted out of doors, the idea being to keep the officers in good physical condition. Officers may start or stop the training at any time in the four weeks' period, but it is requested that those planning to attend make reservations, stating the approximate date of their arrival and contemplated length of stay.

No Travel Pay
No funds are available for mileage or pay and it will be necessary for each individual to bring his own bed linen and blankets, it is stated in the official announcement, but that will make "no never minds" to the many enthusiasts who will be glad of the opportunity to enjoy the benefits of army life for a short period this summer.

There are many reserve, guard and regular officers residing in Glendale, Pasadena and Los Angeles who will be able to literally
"commute" to the camp, it is understood.

Claims Beating of Woman Caused Death

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—
That Mrs. Peggy Love came to her death from a violent beating she received at a gay birthday party was declared by police.

According to J. T. Aragon, a clerk, engaged to marry Mrs.
Love, the woman was seized at the party by a former suitor, taken into a bedroom and beaten to death. Later her assailant, it is claimed, tried to force the contents of a poison vial down her throat.

Aragon told the officers he found Mrs. Love dying, that he attacked the man who had beaten her, but that the assailant escaped by jumping through a window of the house where Mrs. Love and her friends were celebrating her birthday.

SAVE KITTEN TWICE

SANTA BARBARA, July 10.—
The department has an official masochist. It is a maltese kitten which has been twice saved by the firemen from a perch so high it could not climb down. The first time it was saved the owners threatened to chloroform it. The firemen interceded. Again it climber a lofty tree and for three days kept the neighborhood awake with its cries. And now that it has been saved the firemen are endeavoring to teach it to climb the greased pole to their quarters over the station.

GROW BEARDS ON TRIP

SANTA BARBARA, July 10.—
Taking turns at the wheel of a flivver, much the worse for wear, two Santa Barbara boys and a New York youth have arrived here on a twelve day transcontinental trip. They permitted their beards to grow on route and friends hardly recognized them as Milo Allen, Randolph Vail and Richard Chapman.

WILL PICK PEACHES

BANNING, July 10.—Two weeks late, the peach crop soon will be plucked from trees in the valley here and canned. The apricot season is drawing to a close, the last of the heavy shipments being made today.

RABBIT GROWERS MEET

RIVERSIDE, July 10.—Admitting their inability to stabilize the supply, the Riverside Rabbit Breeders' association in session at the farm bureau offices here are endeavoring to stabilize the demand by co-operative marketing.

DEER CONVENTION

IDYLLWILD, July 10.—"Dad"
Chapman, trapper of Round valley, is providing amusement for summer campers here this year by staging an evening convention of deer on the meadow near the camp. He has provided a "salt lick" for the fleet animals where as many as nine deer caper about at the same time, it is reported.

FLAGS IN HOME

ONTARIO, July 10.—The local Chamber of Commerce has placed 225 flags in local homes in a patriotic drive, it is announced.

Black strap molasses or any cheap fermentable body, such as damaged grain, fruit, vegetables, sulphate, or liquors, can be used

REPUBLICANS TO PICK CANDIDATE

Glendale to Be Represented At Ninth Congressional District Meet

Glendale will be represented in the conference of Republicans of the Ninth Congressional district, at 10:30 tomorrow morning at Hotel Green, Pasadena. Appearing on the list of Republicans invited from the Sixty-first assembly district are many from Glendale. There will be the following fifteen members of the Republican County Central committee: Solon D. Beatty, Charles L. Chandler, David G. Crofton, Peter L. Ferry, Charles J. McCormick, Spencer Robinson, Harry E. White, C. W. Young, Harry M. Bruce, Volney W. Craig, E. Evans, Fred A. Kellogg, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, Charles H. Toll and John Robert White, Jr.

From the Glendale Republican club will be: D. J. Hanna, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, T. D. Watson, R. S. Person, S. C. Packer, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, A. W. Tower, A. T. Cowan, Albert D. Pearce, Richard Weller, F. H. Vesper, Mrs. Maria M. Yeoman, J. C. Sherer, C. F. Parker, Warren Stevenson, Mr. Nicolas, T. M. Barrett, Mrs. Ella W. Meeker, L. H. Wilson, Judge Mason, E. Kiefer and D. Ripley Jackson.

To Pick Candidate
Others will be Sherrill Osborne and three others from Eagle Rock; William Corryell and three others from Burbank; L. V. Shepherd and eight others from Highland Park; Judge Decker, Commander Francis I. Isgrig and Mr. Caldwell from San Fernando; Mrs. Fred Kellogg and Mrs. Whitell from Van Nuys; C. Newell Carnes and E. O. Killian from Lankershim; Louis Duni from Edendale.

The purpose of the conference is to choose a Republican candidate for Congress from the Ninth California district. As far as is known the only candidate for the endorsement is the present congressman, Walter F. Lineberger. However, it is possible other candidates will be presented at the conference.

"All Republicans are invited to this get-together conference. There will be prominent Republican men and women to address the conference and Pasadena promises a good time to all," said John Robert White, president of the Glendale Republican organization.

Thanks Workers for Library Bond Issue

Editor, The Evening News: The Library Board wishes to express their deep appreciation of those who have given so freely of their time and services in the bond election. We believe that this is the first instance that all the inspectors and judges have given their time absolutely without charge to the city. The Glendale daily papers opened their columns to frequent articles explaining and urging the bonds.

The three local theatres during an entire week threw upon their screens slides favoring their passage. The backing of the Chamber of Commerce and numerous other organizations, churches and clubs helped along the good work we felt was of vital importance to the educational welfare of the entire city. We feel that the opposition to these bonds was wholly unjustified and has imposed a distinct hardship upon the entire community as all additions to the facilities, and therefore the enlarged usefulness of the library, must now necessarily be postponed.

Cat Club Members to Stage Annual Dinner

Cat lovers of Glendale are invited to the chicken dinner Tuesday night, July 15, at the home of Dr. J. Grim, 1650 Grand View avenue, for the benefit of the Glendale Cat club. This is the third annual chicken dinner given by the club to raise money for the club treasury. Dinner is to be served at 8 o'clock and cards enjoyed later in the evening. Reservations can be made by calling Glendale 2100-M.

Burglars Take $83 at Two Homes Last Night

The home of P. L. Talbott at 615 Fischer street, was entered by burglars last night and $43 in bills was stolen. In his report to police headquarters, Mr. Talbott stated that two of the bills were twenties, the others a two and a one.

Mrs. R. D. Ryan of 343 El Bonto avenue reports to police headquarters that a purse containing $40 was stolen from her home yesterday afternoon or last night.

Hunting of alligators at night is prohibited in Mexico, by a recent edict of the government.

LARGE SUM GIVEN TO AID CHILDREN

Benefit Performance Staged By Pearl Keller Brings In Nearly $1300

Glendale residents are always proud of the accomplishments of Pearl Keller of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing and Dramatic art at 140-A North Brand boulevard, and they will receive with added pride the announcement that Miss Keller on Monday presented a check of approximately $1300 to the Crippled Children's Guild of the Orthopedic Hospital School of Los Angeles.

This amount was realized on the recent concert given by Miss Keller's pupils in the Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles.

Praised for Work
In making detailed report to the Guild, Miss Keller presented a check for $1266.83 and additional checks that were received after her report was completed.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, president of the Guild, the members and staff of the hospital, join in highest praise of the splendid spirit of service sponsored by Miss Keller among her pupils.

The money is to be used to maintain the ambulance used to carry crippled children from their homes to the hospital. Miss Keller is busily engaged during the summer making plans for the school of dancing she is to conduct during the fall and winter in the Friday Morning club-house in Los Angeles.

Will Launch New Market

Picture shows the new building to be opened on Saturday, July 12, at 214 South Brand boulevard, and that will contain meat market, bakery, grocery, fruit and vegetable departments as well as candy and cigar store. HENRY GUASTI has leased the building for seven years from the owners, W. E. EVANS and MRS. J. G. HUNTLEY.

Backing his faith in the future of Glendale by an investment of over $30,000 and by taking a seven years' lease on the new building erected by W. E. Evans and Mrs. John G. Huntley at 214 South Brand boulevard, Henry Guasti and those associated with him in the new market will throw open their doors Saturday July 12, to the shopping public of Glendale with special offerings in every department. A clause in the lease provides for an eight-year extension at the end of the first seven years, if desired.

Mr. Guasti, who has had fifteen years of experience in the wholesale and retail meat business, will conduct the meat market, in which will be employed seven men. The meat market occupies one side of the store, running back the entire depth of 125 feet and contains the latest style of fixtures, with a refrigerating system that is designed to keep the meats in perfect condition at all times. Only meats inspected by United States officials will be sold. Mr. Guasti promises, and the highest quality of service will back the high quality of the meats.

The grocery department will be occupied by Store No. 31 of the E. A. Morrison, Inc., system, the third store that this firm will conduct in Glendale. The firm's investment in this store is estimated at $12,000.

E. A. Morrison, Inc., according to the vice-president F. H. Gorman, who is here to supervise the opening, adheres to the policy of supplying its patrons only with the highest quality of merchandise at prices that are based on ability to purchase in large consignments and to sell through a large chain store system. George N. Culver will manage the store, having been promoted from one of the Hollywood stores. Morrison's monthly catalogue permits the housewife to compare prices and to keep in touch with the fluctuations in the market that so vividly affects the provisioning of the home.

Another department that is now in operation is the bakery, conducted by J. A. Sykes, who comes here from Los Angeles. The bakery is equipped with the most modern machinery for turning out 100x125 feet and represents an investment of approximately $150,000 for site and structure, according to Gilhuly & Russell, the agents.

PURCHASES LOTS IN SUBDIVISION

Los Angeles Investor Will Build Residences on Rossmoyne Sites

The sale of sixty-seven residence lots in Rossmoyne, the Haddock-Nibley company's subdivision north of Glendale, to George Hockensmith of the Hockensmith Engineering company of Los Angeles, is reported by Frank Winn, one of the Haddock-Nibley salesmen who negotiated the deal. Mr. Hockensmith had previously purchased fifty-seven Rossmoyne lots.

It is the plan of the new owner to erect modern bungalows on these lots, at prices ranging from $8000 to $20,000, and he has already started construction on eight houses, with two more to start in a few days. On the first lots that he bought Mr. Hockensmith has already built and sold fifteen homes, and it is part of his program to have from five to ten houses ready for buyers at all times, with at least twenty completed when the fall rush arrives. His financial connections permit Mr. Hockensmith to sell the houses on extended terms.

The investment of Mr. Hockensmith in the two parcels of Rossmoyne lots is estimated at $270,000.

Situation In Ohio Is Well In Hand, Report

Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., chairman of the Glendale Red Cross sends to The Glendale Evening News by special delivery from her summer home at Hermosa Beach, the following communication she has just received from the manager of the Pacific Division of the Red Cross:

"Chapter chairman, American Red Cross, National Red Cross in charge of northern Ohio tornado relief operations, and has made an initial contribution of $50,000 in addition to furnishing expert service and administration expenses.

"Nation-wide appeal not considered necessary. Ohio governor's relief commission limiting appeal to Ohio. Chapters outside of Ohio not expected to contribute or sponsor fund-raising campaign. Situation well in hand and appeals from Lorain mayor should be disregarded."

ADAMS TO SPEAK TO STATE TROOPS

Glendale Man Will Lecture To Guardsmen Sunday At Fort McArthur

H. V. Adams, 436 West California avenue, has been requested to deliver an address before the national guardsmen who are in training at Fort McArthur, and will leave Glendale Sunday morning to fill the engagement. Mr. Adams will take for his subject "The Strongest Man in the World."

For fifteen years Mr. Adams lectured from the Chautauqua platform, and his services are constantly being sought as a speaker before the men of the army and navy, for whom he has a deep admiration, and who always turn out eagerly to hear his addresses. Mr. Adams is escrow officer of the Glendale Savings bank, 104 South Brand boulevard.

East Sees California On Prosperity Basis

"The sane business men of the east are all over the idea that California is on the verge of collapse," is the report of A. C. Barlow, of the realty firm of Barlow & Hoopes, 117 West Broadway, who has just returned from a thirty-day trip to the leading cities of the east and middle west. Mr. Barlow was a delegate to the Shrine convention in Kansas City. "I found that anti-California propaganda, in the better informed places, was practically dead, and the realization that this section of the country is standing on a solid basis of prosperity is spreading daily, in spite of the slight depression that it has felt and that is not to be compared with that which has struck other parts of the country."

Mr. Barlow conducted his investigation among business acquaintances in Chicago, Springfield, Ill., Minneapolis, Minn., Grand Falls, S. D., and Winnipeg, Can., before swinging round by Vancouver, B. C., and the west coast of Canada.

Because of drought and failure of native harvests in South Africa this year many natives have sought work in the mines, and the recruiting of Portuguese natives has ceased temporarily.

THE WORLD IS LEARNING—

That a big town does not make a big man.
That no man ever gets something for nothing.
That the cheerful giver gets more fun out of it.
That it takes more than a bank account to make life.
That the rights of any child are above the rights of any property.
That drunkenness cannot compete with sobriety.

THE INTELLECT VS. THE SOUL

Discussing the teaching of religion in the public schools, a writer says it would be an ideal condition if everyone could be reached with religious instruction, but that this cannot be done through the public schools. No good could come from the study of the Bible in the schools, unless the teacher were an earnest and conscientious Christian, and this many of our teachers are not.

What this man pleads for is text books that do not contradict the Bible, and teachers who do not openly deny, before their classes, the truths of the Bible. He asks only for a square deal for Christianity.

The effect of this negative teaching was shown recently, when a boy said to his father, "That religion of Osiris was a great thing, wasn't it? It saved Egypt from barbarism, and that saved the world." A young girl told an older woman, "We've been studying Mohammedanism in school. Our religion never did what Mohammedanism did."

It seems only fair that if the schools are going to teach religion, they should not entirely ignore the religion of their own country. The defense is made that ancient history cannot be taught without going into the matter of other religions, to a certain extent. But, Christianity had its beginning in ancient times, too, and its effect upon civilization throughout the centuries has been, at least, as great as the religion of Osiris, of Buddha, of Confucius or Mohammed.

A great educator said a long time ago, "The more you train children's intellects, the more need there is for carefully training their characters and helping them develop their souls." Are not the two Chicago boys, who recently committed an atrocious murder, living proofs of the truth of this statement? Controversy begins as soon as the subject of teaching the Bible in the public school is broached. But, the parents have a right to expect and demand that if the Bible is to be taboo in the public schools other religions must go, also. They have a right to know the attitude of the teachers of their children toward the Christian religion, whether or not the Bible is taught in school.

DO NOT DESTROY TREES

This is not the time of the year for planting trees, but it is the time for saving them. Every day in the year is the time for that. Glendale needs more trees on her residence streets, and not one that we now save should be destroyed. When it is necessary to remove a tree in the interest of progress, it should be saved and transferred to some other location.

There are trees that are known as dirty trees and are considered undesirable. Some shed their leaves, some their seed pods, some their bark. If you feel called upon to remove one or more of these dirty trees from your premises, start another tree first for each one to be removed.

Even here in Southern California where all vegetation grows rapidly it takes a long time for trees to come to the stage where they furnish shade and beauty and conserve moisture, and we should think twice before we ruthlessly destroy them.

In Southern California in summer our mountains and our fields are brown; wherever there is no irrigation vegetation dies. The gold and brown landscape is beautiful and poets and artists revel in the velvet tones, but we need trees and still more trees to neutralize the glare of the summer sun, to relieve the monotony of the bare landscape, to furnish coolness, moisture and verdure.

Nothing can take the place of fine big shade trees on a residence street. Let us not destroy what we can not re-create. How truly our soldier poet spoke when he said:

"Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can grow a tree."

HOME OWNERSHIP

The home owner is a better citizen than the renter. This seems a harsh statement, but it is true, nevertheless. The home owner takes a greater interest in civic problems, for his home is at stake; he favors increased taxation for community betterments, because they mean increased home values. Home ownership gives a sense of security and makes a man contented, and it gives him a greater love for his home than one who lives in a rented house can experience.

The renter is apt to fight increased taxation, because community improvements mean very little to him. They only tend to increase rents, and this adds to his discontent. And every discontented citizen threatens the stability of society.

It has often been said that no man who owned a home was ever an anarchist. The home owner has too much at stake to stir up strife. He is content.

Many people are renting who are home owners at heart. Conditions make it necessary for them to rent for the time being. But, there is a large class who are content to live in rented houses. These people should be made to see the benefits of home ownership, for their own good and the good of the community.

ORGANIZATION AND REFORMATION

This is the day of organization and reformation. Nearly everyone belongs to at least one society whose object is to reform something or somebody. There are said to be over 1500 organizations in the United States supposed to be working to prevent people from doing things they are supposed to want to do.

There is so much wasted effort in these organizations, so many useless and impractical laws placed upon the statute books by these well-intentioned people. There are organizations to enact laws, organizations to enforce them and organizations to repeal them. There are those who calmly violate one law and passionately work for the enforcement of the enactment of another.

There are too many laws now. What we need is a weeding out of conflicting, useless and absurd laws, and the enforcement of those which are for the best interest and the protection of the people.

There may be few rich men in jail, but if one has sense enough to get rich why should he monkey around and get in jail?

AS BUSHNELL SEES LEADERS OF THIRD PARTY CONVENTION

The Clamor To Do

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I get tired of people who are forever clamoring to do, do, do!

And this over-activity seems to be not so pernicious in bad actions as in good.

Burglaries are carefully planned and usually quite successful, but the world is full of philanthropies that went off half cocked and did little but wound innocent bystanders.

If the baby is sick, if our international relations are tangled, if taxes are too high, if the roast is underdone, if the unemployed are too numerous, if boys and girls are too frisky, up jumps the average man and demands why we do not do something.

Even the godsakers appear and want to know for God's sake why we don't do something.

The reason, of course, is pitifully simple. We don't know what to do.

Of course one can wait too long, and there is a criminal indecision, but on the whole the lasher out and jumpers in do more damage than good.

As a matter of fact, keeping still has settled more disputes than all eloquence, and letting alone has cured more invalids than all medicines. Business may be crippled, times hard and finances in a bad way. But if a kindly Providence would carry out into the ocean and drown all legislators who pass laws and make regulations to improve things, affairs would quickly right themselves.

Women's skirts will get to about the right length if meddlers will quit trying to stretch or shorten them.

Movies will grow decent if legislatures will let them alone.

There is a strong, balancing, righting force in the universe. Action is equal to reaction. Drunkards die off. The money octopus at last is devoured by the law of diminishing returns.

Your boy will come through somehow if you will not regulate him too much; your husband will improve if you quit nagging; things come around at last about where they ought to be.

And it will never get well if you pick it.

Today's Poem

A SPRING LILT
Through the silver mist
Of the blossom-spray
Trill the orioles; list
To their joyous lay!
"What in all the world, in all the world," they say "Is half so sweet, so sweet, is half so sweet as May!"

"June! June! June!"
Low croon
The brown bees in the clover,
"Sweet! sweet! sweet!"
Repeat
The robins, nestled over.

"I couldn't get out of marrying her," Henpeck explained. "When she proposed, she said: 'Will you marry me? Have you any objections?' You see, no matter whether I said 'yes' or 'no,' she had me."

"That's what I did, and she said, 'Silence gives consent,' and that ended it."

Exchequer Head Wins Battle Over Budget

LONDON, July 10.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden today emerged victorious from an all-night battle with the Tories in the House of Commons when the first labor budget passed the committee stage.

The debate started Tuesday afternoon and raged throughout the night. The Tories fought until 6 o'clock yesterday in an effort to force changes in the budget. Amendment after amendment was proposed, but Snowden opposed them all. Only minor concessions were made and the principal features of the budget remained intact.

Largest wheat farm in the world is in Montana and contains 110,000 acres.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

I have never married and I will tell you why. Some of the fair (or unfair) sex are so hard to understand. Of course there are women I admire very much but there are others who seem to have no power to think or reason at all. If I had a family there are certain things I would insist upon but I notice now-a-days that the wife and children are very much inclined to regard Dad in the light of a check book and to care not at all for his advice and admonition, so there might be trouble in my family and I consider myself fortunate that I never embarked on the matrimonial sea.

If I were married I would insist that my wife do her buying in Glendale. If she were so short-sighted as to wish to go out of town to shop I would set her right very soon. I have a neighbor who is one of these out-of-town shoppers. She is always boasting about Glendale as if she could have credit for the city's growth while all the time she is doing what she can to hold it back. This woman is considered by some to be intelligent but her logic is beyond me. One or two evenings every week she comes limping home, footsore and "all in" with her arms filled with packages. She has been buffeted about in the crowds on the streets and at the bargain counters all day and then has likely had to stand on the car coming home unless some poor, tired, misguided commuter like myself was mistakenly chivalrous enough to give her a seat.

I said this woman was considered intelligent. She should know that healthy business conditions and city progress do not grow on trees. Prosperity does not just happen. Conditions must be right and effort must be made to bring these things about. The curious part of it is, that this woman claims to have moved here because Glendale had such fine stores. When she has out-of-town guests she delights to show them over the city and boast about our beautiful buildings and our splendid stores. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

I often ask myself, "What if all women were like this one? What would Glendale be like?" I can easily see the answer in my mind's eye. People would no longer come here by the hundreds and thousands, in fact they never would have started coming in such throngs for there would have been nothing to attract them. Glendale would be back where the city was ten years ago in the way of population and prosperity.

I find stores in Glendale that give me a wide choice in everything the most fastidious man could ask for. I have reason to believe a woman can do the same. If I had a wife I would insist that she, at least, look in the Glendale stores before deciding that she could not get what she waited here.

Socialists to Wage Election Campaign

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 10.—Done with its most important task, endorsement of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, for the presidency, the Socialist party in its final sessions laid plans for launching immediately a nationwide campaign in the national and state elections this November. With the exception of presidential and vice-presidential candidates, the party decided to place independent Socialist tickets in the field all over the country.

For the first time, the party, in pledging support to La Follette, has a presidential candidate not of its own political allegiance.

Major George L. Berry, head of the pressmen's union, and a candidate for the Democratic vice-presidential nomination, replaced Huston Thompson, chairman of the federal trade commission, as the convention's favorite as running mate for La Follette.

FOUND BUSINESS ON HIGH IDEALS

Trade at Webb's Stores Shows Steady Volume For Summer Months

In the summer business activity in Glendale there is no local store that is experiencing more benefit than the H. S. Webb company, both in the main store on North Brand boulevard at Wilson avenue, and in the men's shop on South Brand boulevard at Broadway.

Established in Glendale several years ago, the growth and development of the Webb company has kept step with the growth and development of the city itself.

H. S. Webb founded his business on the highest business ideals and these he has stressed in every unit of his splendid working organization.

Business Grows
His fine new store building on North Brand boulevard has afforded him added opportunity to put these ideals into practice, resulting in a remarkable development of his business.

Following the issue each week of the Shopping News the Webb store features a worth-while sales event, and sales announcements bearing the Webb stamp are bound to be drawing attractions with hundreds of satisfied shoppers.

New Stock Coming
During the present month the various lines are being sold out to make room for the new fall stock. Both at the main store and men's shop tempting offerings confront one on every hand and are convincing proof of the quality of goods handled by the Webb store.

Mr. Webb, during his business experience in Glendale, has made a careful study of his customers' wants and of catering to the buying public. In his store he has created an atmosphere of happiness, both for employees and patrons, evidenced by the increasing activity in his two stores and the many friends he has won.

EXTRA DISCOUNT AT NISLE'S SALE

Holders of Lucky Tags Are Favored at Offering of Merchandise

As one of the inducements to the people of Glendale to take advantage of his mammoth sale of men's clothes, Ed Nisle, 125 1/2 South Brand boulevard, went even a step farther than the reductions he quoted in his advertising and gave out twenty lucky tags that permitted the holders to secure an additional 10 per cent discount on purchases made between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning.

The sale that Ed Nisle opened this morning has already resulted in a marked reduction in the lines he carries, as buyers have been flocking eagerly to secure the suits that are being offered at bargain prices. The lines carried, Hirsch-Wickwire, Society Brand and Rochester tailored suits, are standard merchandise, and the prices at which Mr. Nisle is offering his stock are powerful inducements to those who wish to secure high-grade clothes at economical figures.

COMMENT That's All

Power Insurance Attained Ideals Storms In India The Trail Home

By Gil A. Cowan

Those cities so fortunate as to have steam generated power plants now are proving the best friends of the Edison company in its crisis. Hydro-electric energy having failed to meet the needs this summer, Pasadena, Merced and other cities have been able to carry some of the load in their municipal plants.

Glendale should not be dependent alone on any one source of supply. The Edison company cannot control the elements, but Glendale can provide itself with emergency equipment to pump water, light the streets and supply current necessary for industry. No need of talking "insurance" to people who can think. They get it without argument. And Glendale people certainly will approve of power insurance.

Another of Glendale's advertisements appeared in a morning paper today. It called attention to the southland visitors of the advantages of this city. At the present time there are at least 100,000 summer tourists in the metropolis. If only 1000 of them glimpse Glendale and get a good impression—which they will—there is no question but what many families will be started toward this all-American city.

Just one line which attracted the writer's attention in the advertisement. It was "Glendale, the city of attained ideals."

Although there is small demand for hosiery now for commercial purposes, recreation clubs like the one which holds forth on West Broadway have caused hardware stores throughout the country to keep a stock of the equine's footgear, it is reported.

And a magazine, "The Horse-shoe World," has made its appearance to chronicle the doings of the toppers, not the "hosses."

Markets to most people are dull doings. Ask the average layman about the price of cotton and he knows but little. Yet cotton is one of the most vital things in our list of necessities.

Liverpool buying reacted yesterday because of the monsoon period in India is passing without serious damage. That means trade in cotton goods will be better among the 400,000,000 or more natives.

Think of it! California growers prosper, perhaps, because a storm doesn't appear in India.

Markets are anything but dull for the student.

Democratic delegates are returning home, broken in spirit and pocketbook, as a result of their two weeks' sojourn in New York. One writer says it will be fifty years before another convention will be held in the metropolis.

They could well have spent their time and money on a trip to California, as far as the election result is concerned.

Monroe's Son

EDWARD JAMES MONROE, aged 108, and still a bachelor, is the son of President Monroe.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 10.—It's a maverick.

That's Edward James Monroe's explanation of why he is hale and hearty at 108. He will be 109 on July 4.

Major Monroe—he fought for the United States in the Mexican and Civil wars, and for France in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870—was the youngest son of the fifth president of the United States. His father promulgated the Monroe Doctrine.

In a picturesque retreat he lives the life of a recluse. He does his own cooking and washing, and raises most of his food on a small truck farm.

FINE EQUIPMENT AT VANITY SALON

Mrs. Ina C. Rankin Installs Modern Appliances In New Beauty Shop

Glendale is fast becoming a metropolitan city, judging from the character of the many exclusive shops which have been and are being established, the newest and perhaps the most artistic of which is that of the Vanity Salon, located at 300 Security Bank building, which is under the skillful direction of Mrs. Ina C. Rankin, who has projected the artistry of herself in this lovely salon.

Only the newest and most effective appliances have been installed, thus providing the very best obtainable in the art of beauty work. This, in conjunction with the artistic furnishings and delightful location, places the Vanity Salon, in the class of the Parisian salons.

Service at Night
Nothing has been overlooked by Mrs. Rankin for the pleasure and convenience of her patrons, and those who are unable to get their beauty work done during the day may have the privilege of the night service which Mrs. Rankin has arranged for on Tuesday and Friday nights of each week.

Claude Williams, an expert on bobbing and trimming hair, will be at the Vanity Salon on Friday of each week, and those desiring this class of work may have the privilege of Mr. Williams' efficiency by appointment.

SALE STARTS AT DRY GOODS STORE

High-Grade Merchandise to Be Sold at Bargains For Ten Days

A great sale covering ten days of bargains is now in progress at the Glendale Dry Goods store, at 115 East Broadway. The sale began this morning, and many shoppers were on hand at an early hour to take advantage of the early offerings.

Stock on sale represents the highest grade of merchandise, and much-wanted things are found in every department at greatly reduced prices.

Flyers of Future to Reduce Verne's Time

LONDON, July 10.—Jules Verne will be well beaten by the round-the-world air traveler of the future.

The British Air ministry has completed a schedule showing that in the near future the world traveler will be able to traverse the world by air in seventeen days as against the eighty days which Jules Verne's hero took.

According to the schedule, Australia will be reached from London in nine days, New York in fifteen days and the 27,000 miles circuit completed in seventeen days.

A. Lowinsky Appeared At Church Reception

One of the enjoyable features of the reception Tuesday night at the First Baptist church was the violin music by Prof. A. Lowinsky of 220 North Central avenue.

Prof. Lowinsky, accompanied by Mrs. Lowinsky, played "Souspir" (Dvorak), and "Humoresque" (Dvorak).

Petrified Ear May Be Indian Chief's

TAMANEND, Pa., July 10.—No scientific pilgrimages have been started in this direction because of the finding of a petrified human ear in a dam here, but folks in the country hamlet are somewhat agitated by the discovery.

They recall that historians recorded that in the early part of the eighteenth century the old Indian Chief Tamanend, hanged here by early settlers, was minus an ear. In fact, the town was given its present name because Tamanend met his end here.

STEEL PLANE IS SHRAPNEL PROOF

British Have Craft That Is Impervious to Bullets And Shell Fire

LONDON, July 10.—British experiments are evolving an aeroplane that will be impervious to shrapnel and machine-gun bullets. The aeroplane is gradually coming into being at the Royal Aircraft factory, at Farnborough, Hampshire, and the experimenters claim that it will be as speedy and easy to handle as an ordinary one.

As it exists at present it is an all-steel, formidable fighting machine. It now being submitted to severe practical tests.

Not only is the main body of the aeroplane built up of armored plating, but the wings have also been fashioned out of steel. This latter feature constitutes the outstanding merit of this "hush-hush" machine. The wings, too, have been constructed in a curious corrugated manner.

Successful as the present effort has been so far, it is not considered as the last word in shrapnel-proof designs by the British authorities. Further research work of an intensive character is now being carried out.

FLYER READY TO TEST DEATH RAY

U. S. Aviator in Challenge to English Inventor to Aid Science

NEW YORK, July 10.—Lieutenant Walter Sutter, United States flyer, has offered to fly in a metal plane and permit Grindell Mathews, the English inventor, to play his "death ray" upon the machine as long as he wishes. In volunteering his services, Lieutenant Sutter expressed a desire to test the ray in the interests of science. At the same time he defied it to bring him down from a height of 2,000 feet or even less.

"I don't think the ray has the power to bring an airplane to the ground," he said. "I am willing and anxious to take the chance. I would like to gamble for science and the effect it would have in the prevention of future wars."

SURGEONS PLACE PATCH ON HEART

Victim of Knife Thrust Is "Sound as Ever," Say Medical Experts

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 10.—Although he has a "patched" heart, Ernest Frazier, 20, today was walking around Charleston just as though nothing had happened to him.

Two months ago Frazier had a near-disastrous fight on the streets here. A knife was produced by his opponent, who inflicted a two-inch gash in Frazier's heart. He was rushed to a hospital in what physicians thought was a dying condition. As a last minute effort physicians operated on him and used several stitches in sewing up the wound.

After the stitching was completed, and the wound covered, Frazier developed pneumonia and for days it was thought he would die.

When subjected to an examination before the South Carolina Medical society here recently, experts declared he apparently is "as sound as ever."

FARMER STRIKES GOLD, SO ABANDONS PLOW

UTICA, N. Y., July 10.—Historic Cherry Valley today has provided another thrill for central New York folk. Gold has been discovered on the farm of Paul Fuegmann, in the town of Rosebloom, near the Cherry Valley town line.

Fuegmann was digging to make a pond on his farm when he found the gold in what is declared to be paying quantities. The soil also contains silver and large deposits of iron, copper and sulphur, he says.

Samples of the earth, which he sent to New York assayers, showed: Gold, .52 ounces to a ton; silver, 2.68 ounces to a ton.

Fuegmann immediately set to work on ways to extract the precious metal from the earth at the least expense.

He has worked out a method whereby he makes his own copper plates and silver plates from ore on his own land, costing him about 2 cents each.

He isn't sure yet whether his find will profit him, but he means to use every effort to make it produce more than he has been able to acquire in farming. Meanwhile real estate in the neighborhood of his farm has skyrocketed in value. Land that was formerly considered valueless cannot now be bought at any price, especially if near the Fuegmann farm.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor:—My mother is 52 years old and very fat. I have tried to interest her in your diet, but she very firmly believes it will injure her to reduce until she is well over the change of life, which she estimates will be in about two years. What do you advise? She always complains about not feeling well, and has a dozen arguments why she shouldn't reduce; but she seems to feel worse and gets fatter all the time. She does not chew her food thoroughly and the only exercise she gets is doing housework. She never goes out, even to the store. Please let me have your advice at the earliest possible minute. Sincerely yours.—Mrs. W. H."

I'll tell you what I would do to your nice fat mother, Mrs. H. I would lock her in her bedroom and fasten the door on the outside with a rope or cord, sufficiently long for the door to open wide enough to permit a hand holding a glass, to insert itself. I would give her some of the latest magazines and some darning to do. Now, I would insert that hand holding a glass of skim milk or orange juice, every three hours, for three days. After that three-day period, her inside tummy will be quite shrunk, so that she can go on a reducing diet without any trouble and she will feel so much better than you will not have any difficulty in getting her to keep on the diet, I am sure. If you do, then lock her in again and give her 1200 calories a day.

This sounds facetious, but I mean it seriously. It is a question of her health and perhaps her life. She's all wrong when she thinks it will injure her to reduce. This idea of waiting until she is through with her change of life is not so good. She may have a change of life she's not anticipating, if she is in the condition you say she is. Let me know how my plan works out?

G. G.—The description of your hand perspiring even when you think of it shows it is a nervous manifestation. Pay special attention to every measure to build up your general health. You know what they are, as you say you have been following our column.

S. G.—Have your nose examined to see that there is no deformity that causes its frequent bleeding. No, hemorrhoids would not be the cause of the breaking out on the face. How about your diet and general condition aside from that?

The recipe for mayonnaise made with mineral oil, is as follows:
MINERAL OIL MAYONNAISE
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Few specks of cayenne
1 egg yolk
2 teaspoons vinegar or lemon juice
1/2 cup mineral oil

Mix the dry ingredients in a bowl. Add the egg yolks and mix well. Add a little of the mineral oil, then a tablespoon of the oil, drop by drop, beating constantly. When the mixture begins to thicken, add the oil a teaspoon at a time, alternating with the rest of the ingredients.

This is good also for constipation. (We have an article on hemorrhoids which you may have.)

Mrs. B.—You ask if diet can have anything to do with sterility. We are beginning to think so. We know that those who overeat and get fat are often sterile; and that going on a diet and reducing the weight sometimes remedies the condition. In experimental work on animals, it is found that a diet deficient in vitamins will produce sterility as well as other conditions.

Follow the advice I am giving all the time in the column and then keep yourself in the best of physical condition, and your desire for a child may be granted. It is estimated that 25 per cent of the causes for sterility are on the male side. A physician should determine this for your husband.

Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers
My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The sample of reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents. If you are of general interest, write them legibly with ink. Sign your name as evidence of good faith. We will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer your questions. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If they are of general interest, don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Long Motor Trip

Glendale club women, friends of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena, will be pleased to learn that she left today by motor for Portland, Ore., where she will join Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Winter for an eastern trip.

The party will motor through the Canadian Rockies, eastward, making a leisurely trip as a rest for both Mrs. Burdette and Mrs. Winter, past president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, whose work during the recent biennial convention was unceasing.

In speaking of the biennial Mrs. Burdette says it was remarkable in three respects: in the whole ten days the program was carried out as planned without anybody being late; without any changes, postponements or other rearrangements. It was remarkable in that there was sufficient money in hand, raised by the federated clubs of California to finance the entire affair before the first session was called to order.

Thirteenth election of Mrs. John D. Sherman of Colorado, as president, but the woman best fitted to carry out at the head of the organization, which includes nearly 2,000,000 women.

Entertains Club

Miss Zilda Cross of 218 West Windsor Road, was hostess last night to the members of the Roda-Clare club, whom she entertained with an informal social affair at her home. A yellow and white color scheme was attractively carried out with arrangements of spring flowers. At a late hour a two course luncheon was served.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Engle, 712 South Maryland avenue on Wednesday night, July 23.

Those who were in attendance at the meeting last night included Misses Eva Brehme, Henrietta Meek and Mesdames Ray Engle, Robert Godar, Paul McCowan, James McGowan and Herman Psenner.

Install Officers

Installation of the newly elected officers will be the feature tonight of the meeting of the Y. L. C. to be held in the Knights of Columbus club house at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be in attendance. Mrs. Marie Lobe and her staff from Los Angeles will assist as installing officers.

Wed in Glendale

Miss Sallie Oberholtzer and Roscoe T. Reed, both of Los Angeles, were united in marriage last night, July 9, 1924, by Rev. E. E. Ford, pastor of the First Baptist church. The ceremony took place at the home of the officiant, 326 Fairview avenue.

Plan For Dinner

Plans were made yesterday by Glendale War Mothers meeting at the Glendale Presbyterian church, for serving a chicken dinner next Wednesday to the tubercular patients at the Olive View sanitarium near San Fernando. Mrs. Josephine Cowlin, president, directed the meeting.

Personal Notes

Philip Henderson of 443 Patterson avenue, and member of R. O. T. C. Co. 8, Engineers, is taking the six weeks' course at Camp Lewis.

Dr. and Mrs. Colin Cable of 505 South Columbus avenue, and Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Thomas of Hollywood, will be dinner guests tonight of Mrs. Charles M. Turk of La Crescenta.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thompson of 226 North Adams street, are moving Friday to Lankershim to make their home. They will be greatly missed by their many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson of 1146 East Lexington Drive entertained recently a group of friends from Los Angeles and Glendale with a picnic supper in their garden. There were over thirty-five guests.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McCarty of 113 1/2 North Kenwood street expect to leave next week on a two weeks' motor trip north. They will motor as far north as Lake Tahoe, stopping en route at many points of interest.

Mrs. G. W. Henderson of 443 Patterson avenue, returned home Tuesday from Idlewild where she has been spending the past three weeks with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Bunker of Palm Springs. She reports a very pleasant vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. Warren Z. Newton of 106 East Lomita avenue, returned home Sunday night after enjoying a ten-day trip north to Carmel-by-the-Sea. They also visited Santa Cruz, Big Trees and San Francisco and other points of interest en route home. Since their return Dr. Newton has been attending the state convention of Optometrists in session in Pasadena. Dr. and Mrs. Newton attended the formal ball and banquet given last night in the Arroyo Seco hotel. This was the closing event of the convention.

Houses of wood are replacing the customary stone or brick dwellings in South Australia.

Visit Glendale

Alumni of the class of 1909 of the Glendale Union High school will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brown of Chasant, Calif., were guests yesterday of Mrs. Emma Burket and Mrs. R. D. Goss of 515 East Harvard street.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, whose marriage was an event of June 23 in San Francisco, are returning to their ranch home from a honeymoon trip. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Bennee Beck of San Francisco.

Mr. Brown has been engaged in the teaching profession for several years. He taught some time in the San Francisco High school and for the last two years has been teaching in Chasant, where he owns a ranch home. Mrs. Brown has also taught, serving as a teacher in the schools at Bishop.

The Brown ranch adjoins that of Lawrence Ward, another former Glendale boy.

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. C. Young of 116 West Magnolia avenue presided over a delightful affair yesterday, entertaining the members of the Wednesday Bridge club at her home with a 1 o'clock luncheon and afternoon of bridge.

A pink and white color scheme was attractively carried out in the decorations of the rooms with arrangements of pink and white sweetpeas. The luncheon table appointments were also carried out in the same tints.

After luncheon the afternoon was devoted to bridge at which Mrs. Young was the winner of the prize for high score. Mrs. Heron, second and Mrs. J. A. Endicott, consolation.

The guests included Mesdames J. A. Endicott, J. E. McClellan, G. H. Bigelow, L. C. Wolfe, T. J. Kender, F. W. H. Jones, G. A. Wendt, E. Clark and Miss Eva Brehme of Glendale and Mesdames Herron of Hollywood and Kimball of Los Angeles.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. H. Bigelow, 1351 North Columbus avenue on Wednesday, July 16.

Special Guest

Dr. Jennie Ghrist, mother of Dr. O. E. Ghrist of 1516 East Broadway, who is a recent arrival from Des Moines, was a special guest yesterday of the tea of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Mark's Episcopal church with Mrs. J. L. McOmber of 1530 East Broadway. The business hour of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Archie Parker, president. Mrs. McOmber was assisted in receiving by her sister, Mrs. F. P. Van Hook of San Francisco.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Doc C. Lindley entertained at a dinner party last night at their home, 362 West Loma street, in honor of the birthday of the son, Cooper-Fisher Lindley. It was the youth's seventh birthday. The decorations were red, white and blue.

Father Hennepin was one of the first white men to have seen Niagara Falls, he visiting that part of the country in 1678.

HOT WEATHER COMPLEXIONS

Any woman can have an attractive complexion in the winter, for if the skin is dry it can be rubbed with cold creams and complexion lotions before powdering. But hot summer days bring a harder problem, for the heat opens the pores of the skin and increases the activity of the oil glands, and the sweat glands. Powder is thrown off and combines with the secretions of the skin to form a thin, sticky film over what should be a cool and perfect complexion. By modern standards no woman with a shiny face is attractive.

Let me suggest a few remedies: If the skin is oily all the time during the hot weather use no cold creams or lotions of any kind. Once a day wash the face with quite warm water and powdered oatmeal instead of soap. Keep the powdered oatmeal in a bowl, dip the wet finger tips into it and rub over your wet face, particularly around your nose and chin. Quite a bit should be rubbed in and then rinsed off with first warm water and then cold. This cleanses the skin and reduces the tendency toward excessive oiliness.

Another splendid hot weather lotion is made by mixing three ounces of rose water with three ounces of witch hazel and adding half a teaspoonful of boric acid powder. After you have washed your face rub a little of this over the skin and let it dry. Any time during the day when your face looks hot and sticky soak a little absorbent cotton with this lotion and dab it all over the face. It will make you look and feel fresh, and as it is mildly astringent it is of permanent as well as temporary benefit to the skin.

Another hot weather suggestion is to carry a small piece of chamomile in your purse and rub this over the skin when it is shiny. This takes up all the oil just as face powder does.

Jane S.—The blood tonic of sulphur and molasses is made by mixing flour of sulphur with enough molasses to form into a convenient paste. The dose is a teaspoonful three times a day for three days. Rest for three days, and then take for three more days. Repeat the period this way until you have covered about two weeks, when there should be no need for continuance.

Blondy.—To keep blonde hair light, add the juice of half a lemon to a basin of water for the last rinse after the shampoo. Ammonia would burn the skin long before it bleached it.

Mr. K. S.—Any of the outdoor sports such as tennis or golf will do much toward reducing your hips and waist.

Mrs. B.—I will be glad to send the formulas if you forward a stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing.

Tomorrow—Graceful Ankles

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, so if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Father's Birthday

Mrs. C. T. Johnson of 343 West Lomita avenue, entertained with a delightful informal social affair Tuesday afternoon at her home in celebration of the eighty-second birthday anniversary of her father, Mr. Forsee, a veteran of the Civil war. The guests included a number of old friends and relatives from Los Angeles and several new acquaintances in Glendale.

The afternoon was devoted to an enjoyable musical program and an informal social time. Late in the afternoon dainty refreshments were served. Covers were laid for fourteen guests.

Gives Card Party

One of the week's enjoyable social affairs was the bridge party with which Mrs. E. W. Cizek entertained a party of friends at her home, 711 East Elk street, yesterday afternoon.

Arrangements of zenias and greenery were used in decorating the rooms for the occasion. The afternoon was devoted to bridge at which Mrs. Edwin S. Dods was awarded first prize and Mrs. Vinton of Hollywood, consolation prize. Late in the afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

The guests included Mesdames Emil Johnson, Homer Lockwood, Edwin S. Dods, Joe La Rock, H. G. Hosford, Mary Griggs of Glendale and Mrs. Vinton of Hollywood.

Paul Stillman, E. U. Emery, C. C. Cooper and J. I. Wernette enjoyed a foursome at golf yesterday afternoon on the Oakmont Country club.

It was agreed that the losers should be hosts at dinner for the four and their wives. Mr. Cooper and Mr. Wernette were the dinner hosts. After dinner bridge was played.

trip and they have made public the conditions as they found them. Huntington Lake reservoir, with a drainage area of about 79 square miles, has a capacity of 83,000 acre feet. On July 5, the gauge showed 17,527 acre feet in storage. July 5, 1923, the record shows the storage to have been 87,733 acre feet. In a year of normal rainfall, the crest line of the lake would be 6950 feet elevation. In fact the records show that July 5, 1923, the crest was 6949 feet. When we were at the lake on July 5, the elevation of the surface was 6882 feet or 67 feet below the same elevation of a year ago on the same date. According to the records of the company at the gauging station, the maximum storage was 21,161 acre feet on June 5. These data are sufficient to show the most skeptical as to the seriousness of the drought condition and since there is no appreciable amount of water coming into the lake at this time, it is evident that conservation must continue to be practiced in order to insure any reserve in Huntington lake to help pull the peak load on the Edison system whenever the demand is greater than they can supply from other sources.

Tunnel Construction

The only source of additional water that could be turned into Huntington lake is the East Fork of the San Joaquin river, which lies beyond the Kaiser range northeast from Huntington lake and about ten to twelve miles beyond Huntington lake by air line. To construct a tunnel to divert this water from the San Joaquin into Huntington lake required the boring of a tunnel thirteen and one-half miles long through the Kaiser range. 50,681 feet of this tunnel was completed on July 5, leaving 18,995 feet to be completed before this water is available for power purposes. The estimate of completion by March 1, is based on drilling eighty-two feet of tunnel per day. By a check of daily reports and weekly reports over the period since the company has been able to drill this tunnel from six headings working three crews of men on eight-hour shifts, the rate of completion is about 103 feet per day, so that I am satisfied that before the summer season next year the tunnel will be completed and this additional water available for hydro-electric purposes.

Under the present severe drought conditions in the High Sierras, the records at the gauging station on the South Fork of the San Joaquin near the portal of the Florence Lake tunnel indicates a flow of 200 acre feet per day. When this water is available for storage in Huntington lake, even if a drought follows the present one, there would be sufficient water to maintain normal power development without conservation. The Edison company has several other projects partly under way and others surveyed and mapped to follow in their proper sequence for further development of hydroelectric power in the San Joaquin watershed. The work under way at this time, in addition to the Florence Lake tunnel, includes the diversion dam at the intake portal of the Florence Lake tunnel, the main dam for storing water at Florence Lake, the South Fork of the San Joaquin, which will have a capacity of 10,000 acre feet, and the diversion of Vermilion Valley streams into the Florence Lake tunnel, giving a total drainage area available for next season of over 394 square miles as compared to the 79 square miles which is available for Huntington Lake at the present time.

As reported in my letter of June 20, the information had been furnished at that time that the Northern Power companies had found themselves unable to furnish the surplus power to the Edison company that had been promised, and brought about the present shortage. Since that time the Edison company has salvaged, bought or leased steam plants in the following locations, increasing their output by the amounts shown:

Santa Barbara	2,000 K.W.
Visalia	5,500 K.W.
Long Beach	20,000 K.W.

to win an Olympic title. He is a pupil at the Hollywood, Cal., High school. Luchetti of Argentina and Miller of the United States today qualified for the individual semifinals in the Olympic sword fencing matches which will be held tomorrow.

Nurmi Is Winner

Paavo Nurmi, Finland, came through as expected and outpaced a fine field to win the final of the 1500-meter run today in the Olympic track and field games in the new Olympic record of 3:53.3-5.

Nurmi had no difficulty in winning the 1500-meter run. Scharf of Switzerland was second; Stallard, Great Britain, third; Lowe, Great Britain, fourth; Ray Buker, Chicago, fifth, and Lloyd Huhn, Boston, sixth.

Although Nurmi pulled up and jogged to the tape in the last few yards, he was within one second of his own world's record, and could have lowered the mark, but he was content to save himself for the final of the 5000-meter run later in the day, in which he repeated.

There was a scramble for the other places, the youthful British collegians, Stallard and Lowe, having more in reserve than the veteran Americans, Buker and Huhn.

Lowe of Britain took the lead at the start, but Nurmi moved in ahead of him at the 100-meter mark and was never displaced. Stallard of Britain and Scharf came strong in the last 200 meters, Scharf taking second by inches.

Buker and Huhn, the Americans, ran together most of the distance, and placed themselves by a fine sprint in the stretch. Buker leading Huhn across the line by a foot.

Imbach, Switzerland, took the world's 400 metre dash record away from C. D. Reidpath, former Syracuse sprinter, when he raced a trial heat in the new time of 48 seconds flat, two-fifths of a second better than the mark made by Reidpath at the Olympic games in Sweden in 1912.

NEW YORK CLOSING

H. J. DUIZEND For International News Service

NEW YORK, July 10.—Profit-taking was unmistakably evident on the stock exchange today. Save for an early bullish demonstration based upon the nomination of John W. Davis as the presidential candidate of the Democratic party, a desire to effect necessary readjustments in the price structure was plainly noticeable.

The market started off with a burst of enthusiasm in practically all departments. Public utilities again headed the forward march, registering brand new highs, in numerous instances. Ralls followed closely, while industrials displayed uniform strength, particularly the equipments, the tobacco and various specialties.

With the first flush of excitement subsided, the market took on a somewhat mixed appearance, due to increased profit-taking, coupled with the usual short selling which attends realizing. Stocks, however, gave ground reluctantly.

Call money renewed and lent at 2 per cent.

Domestic bonds were steady, but foreign bonds developed slight irregularity.

Cotton turned reactionary, following early firmness. Grains, especially corn, appeared to have discounted the government report on the condition of the crop as per July, showing little change.

Foreign exchanges ruled steady.

Price movements in the main body of shares continued mixed in the closing hour. The final tone was irregular.

Stock sales today 933,900 shares; bonds $12,881,000.

Further Violence at Manila Is Not Feared

MANILA, P. I., July 10.—It was reliably reported today that the plot to blow up the Cavite arsenal which aroused widespread apprehensions here, coming as it did on the heels of the strike of Philippine scouts, originated in the flushed brain of a Filipino fireworks maker who was nipped in the bud and officials believe the situation is less serious today than at first imagined and further violence is not feared.

Following the finding of large quantities of high quality pearls off the northeast coast of Ceylon, the government of Ceylon will revive the pearl fisheries, which proved very unsuccessful when privately operated the last time 15 years ago.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

Consider the nickels and dimes. Woolworth June sales reached $15,484,553, an increase of more than a half million over the same month last year. At the present rate the chain will do a two hundred million year.

Cerre de Pasco declared its regular quarterly dividend of $1 payable August 1, stock of record July 15.

Associate these names with ad-vertising, if you please. Postum declared regular dividends of $1 on common and $2 on preferred, both payable August 1, of record July 21; Gimble Brothers declared their regular quarterly 1% on preferred; Burns Brothers and Columbia Carbon did likewise. Their businesses continue to prosper.

Market observers consider the order by International Petroleum for 40,000 tons of pipe for their Colombian fields as most signifi-cant. It means a line will be laid from their South American pro-ducting field to tidewater, and this indicates that Standard Oil of New Jersey, which owns the In-ternational, sees the necessity of meeting demands in America with foreign oil, believing there will be a substantial falling off in do-mestic supply in the near future.

Shell Union declared a regular quarterly dividend yesterday; so did the F. W. Grand Stores, American Sugar preferred, Pro-ducers & Refiners and Cluett-Peabody.

F. W. Woolworth directors have voted a quarterly dividend of 75 cents on new common stock, $25 par, payable September 1, of record August 9. The company has been paying $2 quarterly on its $100 par stock, which was split four for one.

Daily News Letter

By International News Service Correspondents

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 10.—An invasion of the United States by Mexican troops, the first since Villa crossed the border and raided Columbus, New Mexico in 1916, was reported to the state department, recently in a dispatch from Harry C. A. Damm, U. S. consul at Nogales, Sonora, Mexico.

However, the diplomatic seismograph failed to detect any violent tremors over the occasion; instead a repressed chuckle and a faint smile greeted the news instead of a horrified stare and a frantic call for Yankee troops.

Here's how it happened: President Alvaro Obregon, of Mexico, was paying a visit to his home town, Nogales, Mexico, and the Chamber of Commerce of Nogales, Arizona, invited him to cross the border as the guest of the city. This he accepted, and, as has been previously reported, reviewed troops of both nationalities on the international boundary line, made an address and was cordially received by the Mexican Chamber of Commerce, the governor of Arizona, the commanding officer of the American troops and the Mexicans. A pleasant time was had by all.

After the spellbinding international review and parade was held, an event staged in all seriousness to those present, but presenting some bizarre incidents that could not fail to tickle the funny bones of persons so far away as Washington. For the Mexican troops, infantry, cavalry and field artillery marched sedately and proudly on their side of the line, while the American soldiers stepped it off just as proudly on their own side. The reviewing stand, in which stood President Obregon, Governor Hunt of Arizona, Colonel Woodson Hoeker, of the 25th U. S. Infantry, and Mexican officials, straddled the international line, care having been taken to have just exactly as many inches of it on one side as the other.

The cavalcade halted and a presidential salute was fired by the guns of the two nations—twenty-one shots, one by an American gun, the next by a Mexican gun, and so on alternately until all had been fired, when, of course, the rounds were counted up and it was found that the Americans had fired one more round than the Mexicans. However, no international complications resulted from this and all was well and the goose hung high and the parade swung on.

Then came the invasion. A Mexican troop of cavalry in making a necessary turn did "four left" in front of the reviewing stand and gun, and they could help it had swung a few feet across the line into American territory. It was a small incident and perhaps would have passed unnoticed had it not been for the blunder of his officers, and gave orders that a man be posted on the line to prevent a repetition of the incident.

"Marion Gray" continues to attract crowds at the tent theatre of Murphy's Comedians on Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, where the play is being offered nightly, at 8 o'clock.

The tent opens at 7:15 o'clock each night, Manager J. A. Menard states, for the convenience of those who wish to be sure of getting front seats. The tent is large and well ventilated, he states, and the play may be seen from every seat in the house.

"Marion Gray" was an instant and overwhelming success as a novel and lifted to fame its author, Bertha M. Clay. In its translation to the stage, nothing of its admirable power and feeling has been lost. Those who have longed to see a gripping drama of the heart will find it here.

THE T. D. & L. Constance Talmadge in "The Goldfish" opens at the T. D. & L. Theatre today.

THE GATEWAY "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" opens at the Gateway Theatre today.

THE GLENDALE "Excitement," with Laura La Plante, is the feature at the Glendale Theatre today.

Wool Sales Steady Texas Money Marts

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 10.

The movement of wheat in the Texas Panhandle and of wool in west Texas has brought about heavy liquidation of debts in these sections and gives promise of prosperous conditions for the remainder of the year. (General retail business in this immediate territory is better than for any July since 1919.)

Reports Better Haul On Missouri Pacific

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 10.

Local freight loadings on the Missouri Pacific railroad averaged 3106 cars daily in June, exceeding records for all previous months since 1917. The total of local freight and that received from other lines ran 4346 daily. The volume for the first six months of 1924 was higher than last year.

Ice is used to keep fruits warm during shipment in winter.

Detroit Freight Car Shipments Show Gain

DETROIT, Mich., July 10.

Cars loaded by the Pere Marquette railroad and received from connections in June totaled 50,611, compared with 57,467 in June, 1923, and 51,543 in May this year. The feeling throughout this territory, however, is better than it has been for some weeks and conditions are expected to show marked improvement after mid-July.

The freight forwarded from Detroit the last week in June was heavier than for the corresponding period last year, but received shipments were off 35 per cent. Factories at Flint are showing an increased production. The east-bound freight business to the Buffalo gateway is close to the record of last year, while the west-bound traffic through Buffalo is about the same as a year ago.

Italian Countess Is Released From Jail

LOS ANGELES, July 10.

Countess Ramona Gradenigo, alias Ramona von Lippen, sentenced to serve one year in the county jail for passing a bad check, was released on parole at the expiration of six months of her sentence, and immediately took steps to obtain one-fourth share of an $8,000,000 estate in Italy.

The countess was informed by lawyers in Venice, Italy, following her sentence that she was one of the principal heirs to the estate left by her grandfather.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE HAPPY BUG
Uncle Wiggily hopped out of his hollow stump bungalow feeling somewhat sad one day. His pink nose hardly twinkled at all, and as for his whiskers, they drooped like a piece of seaweed in the rain.

"Perhaps it might make me feel better if I had an adventure," So Mr. Longears hopped along and along, until, all of a sudden, he felt something bang him bunk in the eye.

"Ouch!" cried the rabbit gentleman, stopping quickly and sitting down on a log. "I wonder what it was that hit me?"

Uncle Wiggily opened his eyes, which he had closed when he felt the blinking bug. He saw sitting on the log beside him a red spotted bug about as large as a lawn tennis ball.

"Hello, Mr. Bug!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "Something hit me in the eye."

"I think I must have done that," buzzed the bug, leaning his wings off on his legs, for his wings were a bit dusty. "You see I was flying along and, all of a sudden, I banged into something."

"That was my eye," explained Uncle Wiggily. "I am very sorry," spoke the red spotted bug. "Very sorry to have caused you trouble. Because you see, I am the Happy Bug, and I don't want to cause sorrow for anyone."

"Oh, so you are the Happy Bug, are you?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Do you mean you are happy yourself, or do you make others happy?"

"Both!" buzzed the bug. "I always try to be happy myself, and I do what I can for others—let us say that you are not happy now."

"And I am not—I am very sad," interrupted Uncle Wiggily. "I am sad because I have no cherry pie!"

"Tut! Tut! Nonsense! A silly thing to be sad about!" laughed the bug. "Let me see what I can do to make you happy!"

Up flew the red spotted bug, tickling Uncle Wiggily under the chin, and at the same time the Happy Bug laughed in a jolly way. "Ha! ha! Ho! ho! Hum! Hum!"

And almost before he knew it Uncle Wiggily was also laughing, partly because he was tickled under his chin and partly because the Happy Bug had such a jolly laugh himself.

"Ho! Ho! Hum! Hum! Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny Uncle, and he chuckled so hard that tears were in his eyes. But they were not sad tears, they were the tears of joy and happiness.

"Well, I am glad to hear that you can still laugh," said the Happy Bug. "How about cherry pie now? Does it mean so much to you?"

"I don't care whether I ever have any more cherry pie or not," cried Uncle Wiggily. "Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! How silly I was to let a little thing like not having cherry pie—make me cross. I'm glad I met you, Happy Bug!"

"And I'm glad I met YOU!" suddenly growled a harsh voice. "I've been waiting for you, Uncle Wiggily!" And out of the bushes popped the Woozle Wolf. But no sooner did the bad chap jump toward Uncle Wiggily than the Happy Bug buzzed up and cried: "You don't look happy, Mr. Wolf. You look sad. I must

Glendale Auto Dealers -- Past And Present

BRIEF OUTLINE OF LOCAL AGENCIES RECALLS OLD DAYS, PIONEER PROGRESS

Many Interesting Facts Brought Out as Result Of Inquiry Into Business Connections and Establishment of Trade Representatives

There are twenty-three automobile agencies in Glendale, some of recent origin, others going back ten years or more. Those were pioneer days for this city as well as the motor car industry. Many who blazed the trail for the dealers who now handle the older makes of cars have gone, but their memories remain.

To freshen these memories, which are so closely linked with the development of Glendale from a hamlet of less than 5000 to a city of over 50,000, The Glendale Evening News presents below a brief history of each agency:

Overland

Ezra Parker, a pioneer Glendanian who now lives in Lankershim, had the local Overland agency in early days. He was located on South Brand boulevard. In 1915 Julius Kranz bought the agency from J. Davis and removed it to West Broadway between Central avenue and Orange street. He sold it to G. W. Kennedy, who sold it to A. Meyer, father of Lester Meyer, young aviator who lost his life in the world war.

In June of 1921 George T. Smith took over the agency, which for the past three years has been located at 228 South Brand boulevard, removing only this week to the new home of the Overland and Willys-Knight cars at 905 South Brand boulevard.

B. W. Sloan became associated with the agency June 1, 1923, and the firm name became Smith-Sloan, Inc. On May 1 of this year Mr. Sloan bought out Mr. Smith and the new firm name is B. W. Sloan, Inc.

Ford

Harry E. Hall was the first Ford dealer in Glendale, being located at 115 West Harvard street. When he withdrew, in the summer of 1915, Jesse E. Smith, then in the retail sales department of the Los Angeles branch, made application for the territory, and obtained it.

Mr. Smith then formed a co-partnership with Howard W. Walker and W. R. Middleworth, and continued the business under that arrangement until the spring of 1917, his location being 400 East Broadway. Mr. Middleworth then withdrew, and the two remaining partners conducted the business until the spring of 1918, when Mr. Smith left to enter the army.

When he returned from service in the spring of 1919, the Jesse E. Smith company was formed, and has continued without change to the present date. In 1921 the company removed to 115 West Colorado boulevard, where it has since been selling the Ford, Lincoln and Fordson tractor.

Studebaker

The first Studebaker agent in Glendale was Leo Wheeler. The location was 121-123 South Brand boulevard. In 1911 the agency was taken over by Edward Dale, who then lived in Glendale. Mr. Dale continued the agency at that address until late in 1914, when he sold out to organize the Acme chain of grocery stores, which was later sold to the Chaffee organization. Mr. Dale is now vice-president of the Sam Seelig company and lives in Los Angeles. R. A. Siple, who now lives in Glendale, later had the agency.

In February of 1917 Stephen C. Packer took over the agency. Associated with him was John Roman. They were located at 125 North Maryland avenue for a time but that same spring moved to their present location at the northwest corner of Brand and Colorado boulevards. The firm was known as Packer & Roman.

Later Mr. Packer bought out Mr. Roman and took in Harry E. White. The firm became Packer & White and continued as such until April of 1922, when Mr. Packer bought out Mr. White and took in his son, Donald H. Packer, changing the firm name to the Packer Auto company. Recently the firm purchased the southeast corner of Colorado boulevard and Central avenue, where they plan to build a permanent home for the Glendale agency of the Studebaker line of cars.

Buick

J. G. Huntley and C. W. McFadden founded the Buick agency in Glendale, their first location being on West Broadway. Later they removed to 237 South Brand boulevard, which has been the home of the Buick ever since, until Tanner & Hall, Ltd., the present agents, removed to 622

Glendale Branch Of Auto Club Is Growing Rapidly

The Glendale branch, Automobile Club of Southern California, opened in the spring of 1920 at 248 South Brand boulevard, its present address. Stafford Harlow was the first manager. In March of 1921, M. B. Towman was transferred to this post from the Imperial valley branch of the club, Mr. Harlow resigning.

There were then three people in the office, Mr. Towman states. Today eleven are required to provide the service offered. The Automobile club branches meet the tourists directly on their entrance into California, particularly those tourists who come by car and are required to apply for non-resident permits.

In this way, according to Mr. Towman, the Glendale branch of this large Southern California organization has played its part in making Glendadians of tourists, in the years that have passed since its founding.

Chase

Chase was identified with him in its operation. Later Mr. McFadden went to Bishop and George A. Montgomery took the agency. E. B. Sutton, the location then being 112 South Maryland avenue. Previous to that, the agency was operated by Thomas G. Widmeyer, at 207 North Brand boulevard.

A. Nydegger is president and Donald C. Barbee is treasurer of the Nash Sales Company, Inc. The firm also handles the Lafayette automobile. The building at 1234 South Brand boulevard was built especially to house their business.

Dodge

The Dodge agency was first operated in Glendale by J. G. Huntley and C. W. McFadden, in 1915, at 237 South Brand boulevard. Mr. McFadden then took over the agency, and for a time Harry W.

Chandler, Cleveland

The Chandler and Cleveland agency, now operated by Smith Brothers at 1119 South Brand boulevard, was first operated in Glendale by Bartlett & French at the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street.

Well, Look What's Here!

The Ford in the picture is not one of the last 10,000,000, according to the man at the wheel, who is Jesse E. Smith of the Jesse E. Smith company, 115 West Colorado boulevard, Ford, Lincoln and Fordson dealer. The car is No. 130 of the Henry Ford series, of which approximately 10,300,000 have now been turned out. It is a two-cylinder type and once crossed the continent. The man in the ten-gallon hat is Valentine M. Hollister of the Valley Supply company, 139 North Maryland avenue, and NOT Jess Willard. The picture was taken on North Brand boulevard five years ago. The car was twenty years old then. How do you like the special built body?

Bine and Alfred Smith are the brothers comprising the firm.

Reo

Harry E. White was the first Reo dealer in the San Fernando valley, establishing his agency in Glendale in September, 1922, at the corner of South Brand boulevard and San Fernando road. In January of the present year he sold out to the Reo Motor car company of California, in conformity with their policy. A branch of this company is now located at 126 South Orange street, R. C. Hennessy, manager.

Chevrolet

The local Chevrolet agency was first conducted by H. M. Butts at 121 South Brand boulevard, a number of years back. Oma A. Fish and O. W. Tarr then took over the agency and operated it near the corner of Broadway and Maryland avenue, later removing to 510 East Broadway. C. L. Smith, the present agent, took over the business from them in April, 1922, and has since been operating at 241 South Orange street.

Gardner

E. V. Jellison established the Glendale agency of the Gardner automobile in April, 1921, at the present address, 1004 South Brand boulevard. A year ago he took in as a partner W. E. Healy.

Hupmobile

The Barton Brothers, Don and King, handled the Glendale agency of the Hupmobile car in the early days, their location being on West Broadway near Central avenue. In 1921 Lanier Bartlett and J. H. French took over the agency and operated it under the firm name of Bartlett & French, in the building at the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street, which had been built for them when they were agents for the Hudson and Essex cars.

Later Bartlett & French moved to 107 East Colorado boulevard, and from there they moved in June, 1923, to 111 West Harvard street, where they sold the Hupmobile car until June of this year.

Franklin, Rollin

The Motor Sales company took over the Franklin agency in September, 1923, and opened early in October at 121 South Maryland avenue. In November, 1923, they moved to 406 East Colorado boulevard. E. S. Beggs is manager of the company, which also sells the Rollin car.

Star

C. A. Dilley and J. F. Armstrong opened the Star agency at 115 West Harvard street in January of 1923, under the firm name of Dilley & Armstrong. G. O. Bradshaw bought out Mr. Dilley January 1, 1924, and the firm became Armstrong & Bradshaw, under which name it now operates.

Packard, Gray

The Packard motor car has been represented in Glendale since May 2, 1923, by W. H. Daniel, operating under the firm name of the Dixie Motor company, at 1129-31 South Brand boulevard. On December 1, 1923, Mr. Daniel opened a Gray agency in Glendale, at the same address, under the firm name of the Valley Auto company.

Moon

The Glendale agency for the Moon automobile, now located at 510 East Broadway, was started in February, 1924, by W. E. Rawls and Oscar Penn. Last week Mr. Penn bought out Mr. Rawls and the agency is now being operated under the firm name of the Penn Motor company.

Maxwell, Chrysler

The Glendale Motor Car company, Inc., Maxwell and Chrysler dealers, 124-26 West Colorado boulevard, began operations February 1, 1922, at 248 South Brand boulevard. Prior to that date, Lyman P. Clark, president of the company, had been wholesale manager for the Southern California distributors of the Maxwell automobile. He selected Glendale after having surveyed every city in his territory, believing it to be the best place to establish an agency. John A. Pottle, now deceased, was at one time agent for the Maxwell car in Glendale.

Hudson, Essex

The Hudson-Essex agency, now operated by the Kelley Motor company at 816 South Brand boulevard, was established in Glendale by Bartlett & French in 1920, at the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Harvard street. In the latter part of that year it was taken over by Chambers & Felts, who soon sold it to Davis Riley.

Mr. Riley removed the agency to 230 North Brand boulevard, where in May, 1922, he sold it to the Kelley-Kline Motor company. In September, 1920, Mr. Kline sold his interest to Mr. Kelley and the firm became known by its present name of the Kelley Motor company. In May of the present year Mr. Kelley removed the agency to the building erected for him at 816 South Brand boulevard.

Oakland

The first Oakland agent here was Harry Hall. The agency was taken over early in 1921 by Green & McClellan and was established at 115 West Harvard street. Later in the same year Max Green bought out his partner's interest and sold to Aaron Friedman.

In 1923 Mr. Friedman sold to Tom Ricketts, who in May of the present year sold to John Neuschaffer, the present dealer, who moved to the building at 420 East Colorado boulevard, erected especially for this agency.

Ford

In January, 1924, J. G. Caddell opened up a Ford agency at 1800 South Brand boulevard, and has since been selling the Ford, Lincoln and Fordson tractor at that address.

Cadillac

William H. Court founded the Cadillac agency in February, 1921, at 228 South Brand boulevard, under the firm name of the Court Motor company. In September of the same year he removed to the new building at 235 South Brand boulevard, where he remained until July 1, 1924, when he moved to the building erected

FIVE MOTOR CAR MEN AT LUNCHEON IN 1921 START OF ORGANIZATION HERE

Dealers Form Association That Grows Into One of Strongest in State; G. E. Clayton Is Selected For Its First President

The first Wednesday in May, 1921, five Glendale automobile dealers gathered at lunch in a local restaurant, with M. B. Towman of the Glendale branch and H. A. Martin of the Pasadena branch, Automobile Club of Southern California, to discuss the practicability of founding a Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association. Those five dealers were George E. Clayton, J. H. French, William A. Tanner, Stephen C. Packer, and E. V. Jellison.

Today that association is one of the strongest in the state and has eighteen active members, out of twenty-two automobile agencies in Glendale. Its effect has been to stimulate friendship, increase co-operation and imbue the public with confidence in the product its members are selling, is the way dealers sum up the beneficial effects of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association.

The association has had four presidents: George E. Clayton, George T. Smith, C. H. Hunter and Lyman P. Clark. M. B. Towman, manager of the Glendale branch, Automobile Club of Southern California, has been secretary from the first.

The division of motor vehicles has determined that the average car in California lasts from seven to eight years, and your old boat may weather many a stormy trip before it wheezes out a swan song. Even this is only an approximate average, division officials explain. If your car be of ancient make there is still hope. The 1924 records of the division show some 400 or 500 cars of the 1910 model whose owners apparently considered sufficiently travel worthy to justify the payment of another year's registration fees.

Only about 27 per cent of all the cars registered in the state this year were manufactured prior to 1919. Of the 1913 models there are only about 80,000 left. Survivors of the 1917 vintage are apparently as numerous as those of 1918, due, the officials believe, to the decrease in production of 1918 caused by the war.

Gelatin from Delt is made from the carefully selected skins of the water buffalo of India, and treated by processes that make it clean and pure.

Life of Average Car In State Determined

If the knock or snort in the motor car you bought last year conjures up a cruel vision of negotiations with the junk dealer don't despair.

The division of motor vehicles has determined that the average car in California lasts from seven to eight years, and your old boat may weather many a stormy trip before it wheezes out a swan song. Man of Moderate Means Justified In Purchasing Car

A BANKER SAYS he has always advised his friends and patrons to buy motor cars since the opportunity for out-door exercise, stimulation and observation would enable any man to be worth more to himself and to earn enough more to easily offset the price of the car.

This seems a rather round-about way of reasoning, but there is more in it than at first appears. A man who keeps his nose to the grindstone during the day and gives himself no opportunity for contact with the world is not broadening himself. Good books are elevating and technical works are helpful to the man who wishes to advance in his job but the stimulation of the out-of-doors and the contact with other people is necessary, too.

Do not criticise the man of small means who buys a car. He is making himself worth more as a wage earner and giving pleasure to his family that means more than almost anything money can buy. The man who buys a car and subordinates indoor pleasures to the joy of the road has the right idea.

HUMORIST DROPS HINTS ON SAFETY

Jesting Suggestions Worth Serious Consideration of All Autoists

"Bugs" Baer, a well known newspaper humorist, has written and published a series of "road signs," probably merely intended to entertain. But many of them might be erected with benefit to the safety of traffic.

"Don't run up your mileage with skids," contains a lot of real caution in tabloid form. "Don't do your thinking with your brakes," will strike a responsive chord in every man who has had near-nervous prostration at the sight of the reckless driver stopping in a hurry. "There are three grades of eggs, but only one grade of crossing and that's dangerous," ought to be pasted in the hat of all those who try to "beat the train" across its right of way.

Hospital Windows
"The glass in your windshield is the same stuff they put in hospital windows. Which will you look through?" is a very pertinent query, and "Fifteen miles an hour may be a chill but fifty is a fever," is not too medical to be understood.

To towns troubled with too much speeding by tourists, Mr. Baer suggests "Speed limit in this town fifteen miles an hour. One day for every mile over that!" or "We have seven hotels and one jail, take your pick!"

"Don't try to scare locomotives with your horn." "The minute you save may be your last one." "You wouldn't travel on a freight train, so don't try to travel under one," are all good to remember.

Mr. Baer intended to be funny, and succeeded; he may not have intended to be serious, but many can take his cleverness seriously with benefit to themselves and the general public.

First Auto Journal And Race Same Year
The first automobile journal was published in 1895, while the first automobile race was staged in the same year.

BIG DIFFERENCE
The total production of motor vehicles in the United States in 1895 was only 300. Today at Columbus Circle in New York city, nearly 170 times this number pass every twenty-four hours.

Names Committee to Study Road Conditions

The great problem now confronting California is how to get the maximum service out of its main highways. This is indicated in activities of the recently appointed advisory highway commission named by the governor to get data and make recommendations for a state highway program.

Among the discoveries of the new commission is that the public does not seem to appreciate fully the fact that roads are now fundamental business propositions of the state, county and communities, and not merely a luxury to be obtained by occasional bond issues.

The necessity for adequate maintenance is shown in a check which reveals that traffic on state highways alone has increased 57 per cent in three years. In the more rapidly growing districts the increase has been considerably more.

While there is no question that new highways are needed and all ways will be needed, it is considered that the most important work at the present time is in the maintenance and reconstruction of roads already built, which are the connecting links between the main population centers.

CHANGES IN TAX LAWS EXPLAINED

Internal Revenue Collector
Tells New Provisions
Effective July 3

Important changes made by the new revenue act, affecting manufacturers, importers and producers of automobile trucks, automobile wagons, other automobiles and motorcycles, and tires, tubes, parts and accessories for such vehicles, were announced today by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell.

On and after July 3, a tax of 3 per cent will be payable by the manufacturer, producer or importer of automobile truck chassis and automobile wagon chassis selling for more than $1000 each, and on bodies for such chassis selling for more than $200 each, including in both cases tires, inner tubes, parts and accessories therefor sold on or in connection therewith or with the sale thereof.

Applies to Trucks
The sale of a completed automobile truck or wagon will be construed to be the sale of a chassis and a body separately, for tax purposes.

On and after July 3 a tax of 5 per cent will be payable by the manufacturer, producer or importer of "other automobile chassis and bodies and motor cycles including tires, inner tubes, parts and accessories" for automobile trucks and wagons, other automobiles and motorcycles, except tractors. This tax will be payable on all such commodities regardless of whether they are for initial installation, or for replacement. Chassis and bodies will not be considered "parts" under any circumstances under this law, as they were in some cases under the Act of 1921.

Up to and including July 2, the tax remains as it has been since November 23, 1921.

OVERLAND DEALER IN NEW QUARTERS

B. W. Sloan, Inc., Move
Agency to New Location
On South Brand Blvd.

Plans for the formal opening of the new home of the Willys-Knight and the Overland cars at 905 South Brand boulevard are being prepared by the officials of B. W. Sloan, Inc., the local distributors of these cars, who have just moved into their new premises in the Ayers building in response to the insistent demand for larger space to care for their rapidly growing business.

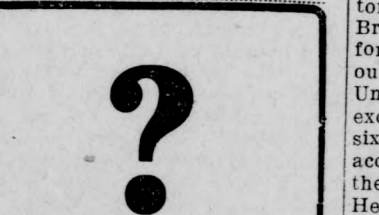

These plans will not be completed for a few days yet, but it is the intention of Mr. Sloan to prepare his handsome new showroom and his service and shop department in a fitting manner to welcome his clients and associates in the business on the opening date, which will be in about ten days.

The showrooms are 30 by 60 feet, with every facility for displaying the Willys-Knight and Overland cars to the greatest advantage, and the mechanical department is much larger than that at the old location, 228 South Brand boulevard, and that was taxed to the limit to handle the business the firm was doing.

Detailed announcements of the opening day will be made as soon as arrangements can be completed.

ENGLISH AUTO FACTORIES

In England there are some 20 automobile factories, employing 120,000 men, and turning out 4500 cars weekly. It is estimated that 100 foreign-made cars are sold each week in that country.

FIRM GROWS WITH CITY'S INCREASE

Glendale Auto Wrecking Co.
Makes Steady Progress
In Eight Years

For eight years the Glendale Auto Wrecking company, H. Dvorken and M. Dasso, proprietors, have successfully operated in Glendale. In speaking of when they first entered business Mr. Dvorken stated that Glendale had only 8,000 population but that there was plenty of indication that the city would grow. Their first location was at the corner of Jackson street and East Broadway where they were located for seven years. Just one year ago the wrecking company moved to their present address, 1010 East Broadway. As Glendale increases in population there is, of course, an increase in motor cars and this has tended to enlarge the wrecking business. They are handling auto parts and accessories and also sell and exchange autos and buy cars for wrecking purposes.

WRECKING FIRM BUSINESS GROWS

New Concern's Trade Grows Rapidly at Location on San Fernando

The automotive trade of Glendale is gradually increasing and just a few weeks ago the Sunset Auto Wrecking company at 1510 South San Fernando Road was started by two automobile men from Los Angeles, Leo Werss and Alex Altman, experienced automobile men who have spent years in the wrecking business.

Both of the new Glendale men are heartily satisfied with the business prospects here and both have moved their families to Glendale to take up their residences here.

The firm deals in new and used parts for all makes of cars, used cars and the buying of second-hand cars to wreck.

BATTERY AGENCY TRADE IMPROVES

Opening of Colorado Helps Volume of Business In Westinghouse

Now that Colorado boulevard has been opened up from Brand boulevard, the Westinghouse Battery Station at 206 South Glendale avenue, operated by G. H. Miller and A. A. King, report much better business. This station handles the Westinghouse battery exclusively and does all the usual battery station work, such as charging all makes of batteries, general repairing of all makes of batteries, etc. They are the official headlight adjusters for the city. The station is open every night for the accommodation of the motorist.

PACKARD AGENCY EXCEEDS QUOTA

Glendale Dealer Establishes Record for Sales In Last Two Months

W. H. Daniel of the Dixie Motor company, 1129-31 South Brand boulevard, local distributor for Packard automobiles, was one out of eighty dealers in the entire United States to register sales in excess of their quota during the sixty-day period ending June 15, according to a report issued by the Packard Motor Car company. He was the only dealer in California to achieve this record, the report shows.

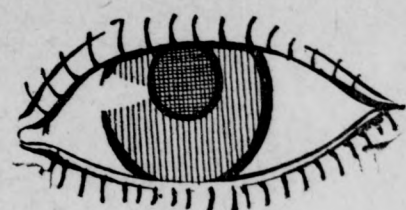

Chart Roads in Death Valley, Mojave Desert

The last stand of the Mojave desert and Death valley against the invasion of motor vehicles soon will give way, and remaining roads open to vehicles will be sign posted. This announcement is made by the Automobile Club of Southern California on the return of Roscoe Behan and Donald Blick of the sign posting department, who have been 29 days in the little known areas, charting highways for posting and renewing mutilated signs.

On the trip approximately 1,000 old signs were replaced with new ones, and the roads charted for future work, completing the entire road system of the desert and requiring an addition 1,500 signs. When these are erected, the desert wastes, once the terror of the traveler, will be dotted with some 6,500 signs, indicating directions, mileages, elevations and water holes.

The road from Las Vegas to Pioche via Mop and Caliente will be sign posted for 200 miles, including the Pahrahagat valley and the highway that will follow the railroad ridge from Tonopah to Las Vegas via Beatty.

Alaska Boy Submits Safety Habit Essay

One of the essays submitted to the Highway Education Board in a contest on "Highway Safety Habits I Should Learn" was written by an 11-year-old boy in the Council school, Alaska. This school is located on the Seward peninsula, beyond Nome, one of the most northerly points in the world.

An automatic control that causes the lowering of window shades during rain has been patented.

Figures Give Idea Of Motor Pressure

The average automobile engine turns over at least 1,200 times per minute. With each turnover making an average of three to four explosions in the cylinders, it will be seen that a car engine fires more than 300,000 times an hour, compared with 3,600 ticks of a watch in the same period.

"A new high sales record for the United States has been set by the Essex Six coach. It is reported that 2500 Essex are being sold each week.

ONE OF THE COMPLETE LINE OF LEE TIRES

Others have cut motoring expenses with Puncture-Proof Tires

Why not you?

Modernize your tire equipment by using Lee Puncture-Proof Cords. Then you can still ride on pneumatic tires without fear of puncture. You can eliminate roadside delays, loss of time and tire repair bills. You can run your car where you want it to go with absolute certainty that your tires will hold up.

The efficiency of the Lee Puncture-Proof has been tested and proved by fourteen years of successful service on thousands of passenger and commercial cars throughout America. Double oversize, with the unusually effective Zig-Zag anti-skid tread, the Lee Puncture-Proof is beyond comparison, the sturdiest tire known—and the only one guaranteed on a cash refund basis against puncture and blowout.

Here we show what happens to a nail when it strikes a Lee Puncture-Proof and is stopped by the steel disc sheathing under the tread.

ENGINE SUPPORT CUTS VIBRATION

Improvements In 4-Cylinder Motor Provide Steady Flow of Power

The aim that automobile manufacturers through the country have been shooting at for years, the elimination of vibration, has been attained in the Maxwell car, according to Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car company, 124 West Colorado street, Maxwell and Chrysler distributors.

The factor that has contributed largely to this in the Maxwell, he claims, is the spring support under the front end of the motor, which does away with the jolts and jars that had a tendency to rack a machine to pieces long before its time. Another factor is the improvement in the four-cylinder engine, which is now fitted with alloy pistons in place of the old cast iron type, thus permitting an easier flow of power and overcoming the old complaints that the four-cylinder engine was not able to deliver such power at a steadily maintained rate.

"With the adoption of the Oil-Vac system in the Maxwell, says Mr. Clark, 'the danger of burning out bearings has been eliminated. With this system the gasoline is shut off automatically as soon as the oil drops to a certain level, and no more gasoline will be delivered to the engine until the lack of oil is supplied. What this means in the life of an automobile can be easily understood.'

LATE CHEVROLET DISPLAYED HERE

Touring Car De Luxe Shown By C. L. Smith to Local Motor Experts

The new model of the Chevrolet touring car, that has been the subject of much speculation and eager anticipation, has arrived here and was placed on display this morning at the C. L. Smith showrooms at Orange and Colorado streets, where it has been attracting an immense amount of admiring comment.

The latest Chevrolet is a touring car de luxe that embodies many new engineering features and refinements that add materially to the pleasure of the motorist, besides being, as Mr. Smith claims, the last word in economical transportation, one point on which the Chevrolet makers have prided themselves for years.

"The latest model," says Mr. Smith, "represents the high water mark in the Chevrolet production, and the style and beauty of the car are something that no mere words could describe. Motorists have to see it, walk around it, take in every detail of it, before they can come to a full realization of its beauties. I never had a car on the floor that I felt so much pride in, and I am confident that it will be the biggest seller we have ever had, for many people who would otherwise have bought before now have been waiting to buy the new model."

In the last six years only 247 miles of railroad have been opened to service in Spain.

BUICK STAYS AT MODERATE PRICE

Suggested Improvement Led To Belief Firm Would Enter 'Fine Car' Field

"One of the most significant facts in the announcement by Buick last week of its Standard Six models is that Buick will remain in the class of builders of moderate price cars. Speculation was rife previous to this announcement as to the likelihood of Buick's bringing out a car that would be considerably higher in price than any it had produced before—a car that might be a competitor in what is known as the exclusive 'fine car' field," says Ray L. Galvin, sales manager of Tanner & Hall, 622 South Brand boulevard, local dealers.

"The reason, perhaps, why this rumor persisted so strongly was because Buick was first among the large volume of producers to equip its cars with four-wheel brakes, as it did a year ago, and likewise to introduce many other improvements of chassis and lines—all of which gave its cars greater value."

"A careful inspection of the Standard Six models shows even the layman that they are Buick through and through. With these models it is evident that Buick is providing at a lesser price than has been in effect since the war, a Buick six-cylinder car that will record even greater performance accomplishments than were reported from the cars of that time."

ELABORATE TESTS ON PISTON RINGS

Ford Plant Rejects Twenty Per Cent of Output for Imperfections

The care that enters into the manufacture of Ford cars is typified by the number of operations that go to the making of piston rings, these parts going through twelve separate processes before they are ready for final inspection, and so keen is that final test that 20 per cent of the rings that survive the twelve operations are cast as imperfect.

The material for the piston rings is cast in the form of "pots," each weighing 4 pounds 5 ounces, and by the time the twelve rings are turned out from each "pot" the weight of the metal in them has been reduced to 1 pound 2 ounces. During all the process there are frequent inspections and tests, until the time comes when the rings must receive the final O. K. of the inspectors.

The daily output of piston rings from the Ford factory is 200,000, and of this number an average of 40,000 are rejected daily as being below the standard of the Ford requirements.

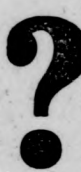

Another Ford feature that appeals to owners of this make of car is the fact that the service stations in the United States number 30,000, each of which is ready to care for the Ford, no matter what part of the country it is found in.

Turns Down Place on La Follette's Ticket

NEW YORK, July 10.—Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, has turned down an offer from Senator La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, to run as vice-president on La Follette's independent presidential ticket, it was reliably reported here.

When Wheeler refused, La Follette is said to have made the same offer to Huston Thompson, chairman of the federal trade commission.

AGENT STRESSES FRANKLIN POWER

New Car Combines Comfort And Riding Ease With Ability on Roads

The combination of unlimited power with Franklin comfort, ease of handling, care-free cooling, reliability and economy, as shown in the latest Franklin cars, is the sensation of the automotive industry, in the opinion of the local dealer, E. S. Beggs of Motor Sales company, 406 East Colorado street, who is proudly pointing out the merits of the latest development in the field of high power, as furnished by the Franklin.

"Franklin cars have hung up another achievement," he declares. "The rapid acceleration, the power and the speed on hilly roads, combined with the Franklin air-cooling system, mark the greatest motoring advance in years."

"The Franklin has always been distinguished for its easy riding abilities, for its ability to follow the road all day without imposing any fatigue on the man at the wheel, and for permitting the passengers to sit at ease while the car traverses the roughest highways, but the new Franklin is setting a new standard for comfort and roadability. A short trial in a Franklin only touches the surface of its good points. I would rather take a client out for an all-day run and let him judge what the car can do on such a test, for I know that then he will be a real convert to the Franklin."

VOLUME OF MOON SALES CLIMBING

Glendale Dealers Pile Up New Record In Two Months
In This Region

The record of the Moon car during the past two months, in which the claim is made that it outsold every other car costing over $1000 in the Glendale territory, is a matter of pride for the local dealer, W. C. Penn of the Penn Motor company, 510 East Broadway, who stresses the values that, he declares, set the Moon car in a class by itself. While admitting modestly that a large part of the firm's success is due to the aggressive policy of the selling force under his direction, Mr. Penn attributes most of that success to the Moon itself and its dollar-for-dollar value to the motorist.

Four models of the Moon are being emphasized, the touring car, the roadster, the two and four-door sedans, which, with balloon tires, four-wheel hydraulic brakes, and the other refinements that are built into the cars, as well as the engineering features, are exercising a strong appeal to buyers who seek motor car merit at a price that is within the reach of the man of moderate means.

"We can win over a prospect in nearly every case where we get him in the Moon for a ride," says Mr. Penn.

Fix Date for Grand Prix Race at Milan

September 7 has been announced by the Automobile Club of Milan, Italy, as the date for the Italian Grand Prix 500-mile race on the Monza track. The event will be a repetition of the opening two-litre race, held last year, with the same amount of prize money—namely, 1000,000 liras to the winner, 50,000 to the second car, 15,000 to the third, three prizes of 10,000 liras each and three of 5,000 liras.

Farmers Offer Good Market for Dealers

Figures show that nearly 40 per cent of all the automobiles in Canada are owned by farmers. Business men and brokers own about 15 per cent, while the lowest figure of 3 per cent is attributed to contractors.

California's Farms Support Many Autos

California farmers own 130,000 vehicles, according to statisticians. Of this number approximately 10,000 are trucks, while the same agriculturists own nearly 30,000 tractors.

Gasoline Costs More Than Water in Texas

In some parts of Texas gasoline is more common and cheaper than water. In Grapeland, Tex., car owners must pay 35 cents for distilled water, while gasoline costs but 20 cents.

The Colorado river has a fall of 10,000 feet from its source in the Rocky mountains to where it empties into the Gulf of California.

HIGH WINDS FAN BLAZE AT TAHOE

Flames In National Forest Defy Fire Fighters as Breeze Shifts

Pass. It started yesterday afternoon, and today officials declared that only a fortunate turn in the wind would save thousands of acres from destruction, as it already has a good start.

The state forester's office reported all fire out or under control under its jurisdiction, the Liggett valley blaze on the Eel river having been snuffed out early this morning.

Serious Forest Fires Sweeping Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore., July 10.—Three serious forest fires and several minor blazes continued in the timbered areas of the northwest today.

Fire in the Santiam forest, near Albany, Ore., was reported entirely beyond control today. More than a thousand acres have been swept and a change of wind through the night sent the flames raging up the southern slopes of Brietenbush canyon toward the north Santiam. Damage to the Hammond Lumber company's logging equipment will reach $150,000, it is estimated.

Town in Danger
The little town of Keno, eleven miles from Klamath Falls, is reported in danger of being swept by a fire which is gaining headway through logged-off lands near there. Twenty additional fire fighters were added to the crew today.

Two hundred men continued to fight a seething fire which is sweeping green timber east of Ostrander, near Kelso, Wash. A northwest wind is fanning the flames.

Fires near Florence, Ore., and Astoria are reported to be under control.

POSSE ON TRAIL OF LONE BANDIT

Bank Cashier Escapes Vault To Raise Alarm After
$800 Robbery

KENNETT, Cal., July 10.—A lone bandit today held up the Kennett branch of the First Savings bank of Shasta county and escaped with $800, leaving Cashier Frank L. Johnson locked in the vault. Johnson was able to push back the bolts from the inside and escape three minutes after the holdup. A posse of 30 men headed by Sheriff Sublett pursued the bandit, who was unmasked in his flight northward. He was described as "tall, about 50, black mustache, black fedora, khaki overalls."

The bandit was later reported having been seen walking north on the railroad.

Police Investigating Three Bay City Fires

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Police were today investigating the origin of three fires which broke out in succession in a lumber yard, a paint warehouse and a paper box company, causing damage estimated at $500,000. Incendiaries were believed responsible. Arthur Garrett, a policeman who saved a woman from the wheels of a speeding fire truck, was seriously injured.

Bank Cashier Robbed By Bandits In Auto

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., July 10.—Two armed bandits held up R. Emmett Archibald, cashier of the First National bank of Lake George today and robbed him of $8,500 of the bank's funds. Archibald was on his way to the bank. The bandits escaped in an automobile.

Tentative Valuation On Railroad Is Fixed

Holds Governor's Place

MRS. SOLEDAD C. CHACON, at the age of 34, is acting governor of the State of New Mexico, while the real executive, JAMES HINKLE, attends the Democratic convention at New York. She holds the office of Secretary of State as her regular job.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 10.

Blessed with two-gunned forebears who stalked New Mexico in its raw era, the valor of a fighting grandfather who in the Civil war battle of Valverde emerged in glory, and the keen, modern business acumen of a father who, for forty-three years, has been connected with the First National bank of Albuquerque, there is every hereditary explanation for the achievements of Mrs. Soledad C. Chacon, 34, the first woman in the political history of the United States to jointly hold the offices of secretary of state, lieutenant-governor and acting governor. She became acting governor on June 10.

Mrs. Chacon, secretary of state of New Mexico, through the recent death of Lieutenant-Governor Jose A. Baca, automatically assumed the duties of lieutenant-governor of New Mexico, together with her unusual task, for a woman, as secretary of state.

And, with Governor James Hinkle absent from the state as a delegate to the national Democratic convention, there also fell on the shoulders of this remarkable woman the duties of governor.

She Fills Three Offices
Governor, lieutenant-governor and secretary of state—these are the three leading executive offices of the state—and she is carrying them all.

Mrs. Chacon is the daughter of Meanton Chavez, who for nearly half a century has been affiliated in banking circles here. In addition to her triple burden in the divorce suit of Nina Leck Hill against her husband, Roland Hill, which was filed in the superior court today.

On the night of July 3, after he had been preparing for a celebration for two days, according to her charges, Hill proceeded to wake up all the neighbors by hammering at their doors. He was dressed mainly in a smile, although the complaint recites he was in his underwear.

That was a prelude to a glorious Fourth, Hill being on a periodical spree, on all such occasions abusing his wife, the suit continues. Then on July 6 he took occasion to run around the neighbors again in a costume befitting the Olympic games.

As an aftermath he was removed to the general hospital for sanity tests and Mrs. Hill no longer wishes to be his wife.

Her Grandfather a Sheriff
Mrs. Chacon's great-grandfather, Jesus Maria Baca, was born in Santa Fe and served as sheriff of that county in the days when law was carried recklessly on the hip in the form of six statutes, a decision for each shell.

He later served in the Civil war and was decorated for unusual bravery at the battle of Valverde.

Mrs. Chacon was educated in the public schools of Albuquerque and graduated from the high school here in 1903, later acquiring her business training in a business college. She was married to Ireneo Chacon, business man, in 1910.

She is regarded as one of the most able politicians in New Mexico, and the southwest in general, and, with the accumulation of a few more years' political lore, hopes to become governor of New Mexico by popular vote.

MARSH ON TRAIL OF DELINQUENTS

24,000 Chauffeurs Who Have Not Paid 1924
Fee Are Sought

SACRAMENTO, July 10.—Chauffeurs who have failed to pay their licenses for 1924 will be liable to arrest, according to instructions issued by Will R. Marsh, chief of the department of motor vehicles.

According to the returns, some 24,000 chauffeurs among the 100,000 operating in California have neglected to renew their licenses.

Will H. Marsh, chief of the division, has instructed traffic operators operating under the supervision of the division, to collect the fee of $2 from chauffeurs who have failed to renew their license and to arrest any who may refuse to pay.

"Any person who directly or indirectly receives compensation for operating a motor vehicle on the public highways, 'is defined as a chauffeur. This definition includes drivers of trucks and taxis and drivers employed in private families, but does not include manufacturers' agents, proprietors of garages or demonstrators. Chauffeurs are required to display badges in plain sight and should carry a pocket card."

Celebration Leads to Sanity Test and Suit

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Humorous allegations are contained in the divorce suit of Nina Leck Hill against her husband, Roland Hill, which was filed in the superior court today.

On the night of July 3, after he had been preparing for a celebration for two days, according to her charges, Hill proceeded to wake up all the neighbors by hammering at their doors. He was dressed mainly in a smile, although the complaint recites he was in his underwear.

That was a prelude to a glorious Fourth, Hill being on a periodical spree, on all such occasions abusing his wife, the suit continues. Then on July 6 he took occasion to run around the neighbors again in a costume befitting the Olympic games.

As an aftermath he was removed to the general hospital for sanity tests and Mrs. Hill no longer wishes to be his wife.

Set Date of Hearing On Statutory Charge

W. J. Baker was arraigned this morning in the police court of Judge Frank H. Lowe on the statutory charge preferred by members of the family of Mrs. Gertrude Isensee, and his preliminary hearing set for August 27, in order that the injured woman may recover sufficiently to testify. Bail was set at $500 cash or $1000 property.

Mrs. Isensee is now a patient at the Glendale hospital, suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries sustained when on Sunday night, July 6, she leaped from Mr. Baker's automobile on North Glendale avenue.

Trainman Killed In Collision In Oregon

RAINIER, Ore., July 10.—A trainman named Burgess was killed and a number of passengers reported seriously injured when the Astoria-Portland express and the Seaside Limited crashed on the S. P. & S. tracks near here this morning.

The round-trip train left Portland at 5 a. m. for Astoria, and met train No. 22, inbound to Portland. Burgess was braked on the latter. The trains were carrying a large number of vacationists to and from the Oregon beaches.

Chance and Oldfield May Buy Vernon Team

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—A report that Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago Americans, plans to purchase the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league with Barney Oldfield, former automobile race king, was circulated today when it was learned that Chance and Oldfield are leaving to spend several days with Eddie Maier, owner of the Tigers, at the Maier ranch. Chance is in California attempting to regain his health.

Abraham Lincoln was the third youngest president of the United States.

Davis Will Sever Legal Connection To Wage Campaign

NEW YORK, July 10.—John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for the presidency, announced today he will immediately sever his connection with the law firm of which he has been a member since resigning as ambassador to Great Britain. He will wind up his business affairs as speedily as possible and then embark on "an active campaign" that contemplates weeks of campaigning through the country.

Faces Exile

LOUIS N. HAMMERLING, claiming to be a Polish senator, may lose his American citizenship papers.

Proceedings have been started in Washington to revoke the American citizenship papers of Louis N. Hammerling, who recently arrived in New York as Senator Ludwik Mikolaj Hammerling of Cracow, Poland. It is charged he gave his birthplace as the Philippine islands instead of Galicia. During the world war he was the subject of congressional investigation because of alleged pro-German activities.

PRESIDENT'S SON IS LAID TO REST

Calvin Coolidge, Jr., Receives Sorrowing Tribute as Life's Race Ends

White House, simple in character, inspiring in nature.

Soft choir music from long-trained voices, the quiet notes of the organ, all combined to bring solace to the hearts of the bereaved.

Wait for Service
Promptly at 7 o'clock, eastern standard time, the funeral train drew into Northampton. Almost immediately the president and Mrs. Coolidge and their eldest son John left the train and retired to the Coolidge home, now maintained by Mrs. Coolidge's mother, Mrs. Andrew Goodhue. There they rested, waiting for the time for the church services.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, they returned to the car containing the earthly remains of young Calvin. Silently they stood by as the body was lowered into the hearse and covered with a single blanket of pink roses.

After then the little procession started up the main street of the town. Flanked on each side of the hearse trod the six marines, behind followed the Coolidge family and those who had come with them from Washington to represent the sorrow of the nation and the world.

Heads Are Bared
Soldiers lined each side of the street during the short journey; sad-faced townsfolk stood bareheaded as the party went by.

Following the services at the Congregational church, the mourners returned to their train and departed immediately for Plymouth, Vt., where Calvin was laid to his final rest this afternoon.

Simple Services When Body Is Placed In Grave
PLYMOUTH, Vt., July 10.—In the Crossroads cemetery of this little hamlet, Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of the president, was buried this afternoon.

Aside from the clear tone of the bugled "taps" echoing and reaching from the Vermont hills and the presence of a little handful of the nation's highest, the 16-year-old lad was lowered into his grave, much as any other American boy might have been by two heart-broken parents.

The location of the final rites made display impossible. They were not desired by the bereaved. The attendance of a few representatives of the national government and the slight military touch were the only concessions of the sorrowing father to the high rank he holds.

The scene was far more inspiring and dramatic in its simplicity than had young Calvin been accorded the highest honors a nation can give. There was real grief. There was real tribute.

Plan to Modernize London Phone System

LONDON, July 10.—Plans are under way for the virtual rebuilding and modernization of London's telephone system. It is understood that several million dollars will be expended to bring the system up to date.

SERVED 72 YEARS

Louis W. Barie, head of the Barie Bread company in Detroit, has recently put his firm out of business in order to retire and take life easier. He has been head of the firm himself since 1831, it having been started by his father. In seventy-two years the ovens at the bakery have virtually never cooled off completely. The Baries made their baking reputation with rye bread.

upon his hearers the limitless future for this favored section. "If I had my way," commented Mr. Chapin, "I would stop it. I do not like cities and I think that California immediately after the Spanish regime was the most ideal place in all the world."

More People Coming
The speaker was introduced at the request of President J. Herbert Smith of the Rotary club by Arthur H. Dibbern as "the statistical hound." He prefaced his remarks about the southland's growth by saying it was the result of a surge by the Nordic races to a climate which best suits them.

Refuting some of the sensational stories which have appeared in eastern and northern newspapers, he said that in the first four months of this year 35 per cent more people came to Southern California than last year, which was 30 per cent greater than the year before.

But it is the industrial growth of Los Angeles and its environs which has astounded the world and caused the concentrated ire of the midwest to be focused upon us, according to Mr. Chapin. So far each month this year has seen 100 new industries established here. And there is not one big firm which either does not intend to move here as a unit or establish a branch, the speaker stated.

Increased Efficiency
"In the radius of 600 miles from Los Angeles we have the largest productive agricultural district tributary to any metropolis. In that same territory we have 85 per cent of all materials used in world commerce."

"In Los Angeles it has been proved that labor efficiency is increased 27 to 40 per cent, that we have the cheapest light and water and right here one-third of all the oil in the United States is produced."

"Seventy per cent of all tonnage through the Panama canal last year was chartered to or from Los Angeles. We have the markets of 900,000,000 people on the Pacific shores," added the speaker.

In the temporary slackening of the speed with which this section was forging ahead, Mr. Chapin sees untold benefits. "The first problem Los Angeles has to meet is that of automobile traffic. Building of boulevards must go forward at once or we will have to run our cars on top of each other."

And in the development of water supply from the nearby canyons and the Colorado river the speaker sees another problem met. The drought has impressed the southland with the necessity for building for the future.

Report Next Week
President Smith reserved his report on the Toronto convention of Rotary International until next week. He described the journey to and from the convention as one of pleasure. Visiting Chicago No. 1 club he had the pleasure of meeting Paul P. Harris, founder of Rotary.

Visitors at today's meeting included Leonard Collins of Burbank and Lee D. Kelker, Frank D. Parent and E. P. Street of Inglewood.

Iowan Found Dead In Hotel; Probe Started

LOS ANGELES, July 10.—Detectives were attempting today to determine whether F. O. Bunting, wealthy retired Iowa business man, killed himself or was murdered. His body was found, stabbed through the heart, in a hotel here last night. A dagger, sheathed in leather, was found clutched in the dead man's fingers. Mrs. Bunting, who was in the lobby of the hotel when her husband died, told police he committed suicide.

Democrats Adjourn; Hull Still Chairman

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Democratic national committee adjourned this afternoon subject to the call of the chairman, Cordell Hull. The adjournment was taken without a successor to Hull having been designated. Indications pointed to Hull's re-election and a meeting of the committee at about the time John W. Davis is notified formally of his nomination for the presidency.
